Ryan Says Corbett Will Win, But He Gives Jeffries a Show

By ROBERT EDGREN.

SAN FRANCISCO, August 13.—"Corbett and I have worked out a scheme that should bring the money tomorrow night, if skill and brains can win it all. The plan has been devised in secret, and what it is no one, except Jim and myself, will know until the fight is on."

Thus spoke Tommy Ryan, the "man who made Jeffries," and who has been preparing Corbett for his fight with Jeffries tomorrow night, when asked today what he thought of the pending battle. Continuing, he said:

"We have gone over the whole thing carefully. We know all of Jeffries' weak points. We know his condition, his speed, and his strength. When Corbett goes into the ring tomorrow night he will fight much as people expect to see him, but he will spring a surprise which, I think, will prove the undoing of the champion.

"If Corbett can stick to his program he certainly has a good chance to win. It will all depend on whether Jeffries can make him fight in the way that Jeff wants to. Jeff is a cunning fellow and has a knack of doing that, but he will have hard work this time.

"If Jeff can force Corbett to meet him in his own style, standing up and fighting all the way, Jeff will win. Corbett is not that kind of a fighter. Of course, Jeffries will try to do that.

"It will be Corbett's plan to make Jeffries fight in a style something like his own, and if he can do that, there will be nothing to it, but Corbett.

"He has mapped out a plan of battle that will give him all the chance in the world to use his skill again Jeff's strength. And this I will say: That if Corbett fails to win tomorrow night he will never be able to whip Jeffries. Neither will any other man in the ring, now or in time to come, unless there should spring up a fighter the equal of the champion in weight, strength and size."

"Eddy" Graney issued the following statement today:

"I will render my decision in the fight in accordance with the merits of the men, just as though it were a fight between two ordinary pugilists, without a reputation."

SHAW'S ADVICE WILL BE ASKED

Financial Conference at Oyster Bay Reaches No Decision.

PROBLEM DIFFICULT

Democrats and Republicans Alike Requested to Submit Prescriptions for Ailments.

SPECIAL SESSION IS NEARER

[Special Telegram to The Gazette.]

Oyster Bay, N. Y., Aug. 13.—The sub-committee of the finance committee of the senate desires to be in constant touch with the president, the secretary of the treasury, with members of the house of representatives, with bankers of the west and of the east, and with country bankers, as well as city bankers, so that it can have some plan definitely formulated by the time of the extra session of congress, whether it occurs in October or November. The extra session surely will be called. What the committee has done is merely tentative and while it is an easy thing to draw a bill which the committee might agree on, it is another thing to draw one which can be passed and that is an important matter."

The above is the first authoritative statement which has come from the Aldrich currency committee since it was empowered to spend the summer in getting up a bill which would prevent money famines. The statement contains real news about the possibility of congress meeting several weeks earlier than the original program. It is the most important development of the conference held at Sagamore Hill last night between the president and Senators Aldrich, Allison, Platt of Connecticut and Spooner. The conference lasted until early this morning, because in addition to the currency question there were several matters which these senators, who, with one or two additions, are the controlling power in the senate, desired to discuss with the president.

Discussed Other Subjects.

The conference included Cuban reciprocity, the postoffice cases and a few other things connected with the policy of the administration. The opinion was expressed that it might be wise to call the extra session in October instead of on November 9, the date first agreed on, in view of the fact that there may be a rather long discussion of the Cuban treaty and considerable opposition to the currency bill. This was the first intimation that a prolonged debate over the Cuban treaty was even expected and the matter of the date of the extra session was left open until sentiment among the members of the two houses has been canvassed more carefully.

The members of the committee told the president very fully how they regarded various plans which had been suggested. They also said what they thought should go into the currency bill and what should be left out. No intimation as to what these two classes of provisions were could be obtained. Very little questioning was necessary to make it clear that the principal point which the committee is now struggling over is something which will permit the currency to inflate when there is occasion, and to contract when the necessity has passed. On this point, it is said, that the committee has not yet agreed.

Views Widely Divergent.

I am informed that the committee was so much at sea on this point that the suggestion was made that it might be well for them to get in touch with the secretary of the treasury and see if he could not give a few helpful hints. Secretary Shaw will therefore be consulted very soon. In order that Secretary Shaw shall be well informed of the president's views before he meets the committee the secretary will visit the president by invitation tomorrow. During this visit the currency question will be discussed fully, after which Secretary Shaw will return to New York.

The prospect of the different elements in congress reaching an agreement was also carefully canvassed. The committee will probably send out the draft of a bill and submit it to various members of the house, as well as to numerous bankers and capitalists, in every state of the union. President Roosevelt was very urgent that the committee should start right with its plan, and inasmuch as this legislation is for the general good of the country, to get the support of Democrats, as well as Republicans, to the scheme.

OUR EXHIBITS TO BE NUMEROUS

State Manufacturers' Commission Wants Names of Those Wanting Space.

TO PRINT A CATALOGUE

[The Pittsburgh Gazette Bureau, Press Building, PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 13.]

The department of manufacturers of the Pennsylvania commission to the Louisiana purchase commission, St. Louis, has been very successful in its efforts to induce manufacturers to make exhibits at the exposition next year. A large number of the most representative firms in Philadelphia, Pittsburgh and other manufacturing centers have notified the Pennsylvania department that they have made application for space. It is quite possible, however, that there are a considerable number, who, while having made application to the St. Louis officials, have failed to notify the Pennsylvania department of their action.

George T. Oliver, chairman of the committee of manufacturers, James Pollock and George H. Earle, Jr., the other members of the committee, today announced that they would be pleased to have all manufacturers who have or who intend to make application for space to inform the Pennsylvania department of their purpose. The department has in preparation a catalogue which it will issue later on, which will be descriptive of various exhibits made by the manufacturers of this state, and will, for circulation purposes at the fair, constitute a directory of domestic and international value.

In order that all Pennsylvania manufacturers should be represented, it is essential that they should inform the commission at once. All communications on this subject should be addressed to Chester D. Potter, chief of the Pennsylvania department of manufacturers, 717 Real Estate Trust building, Philadelphia.

ROBBED AND SHOT.

Two Negroes Use Revolver on an Artist After Taking His Valuables.

HARRISBURG, Aug. 13.—(Special.)—William Brennan, an artist of Muscatine, Ia., a son of wealthy parents, has been engaged for some time painting views along the Susquehanna. Last night, as there was no regular train from Columbia to Harrisburg, he boarded a freight train, getting into a car where there were two negroes.

Nearing Steelton the negroes robbed Brennan of his money, and when he tried to jump from the car shot him in the back and he fell to the track, where a track walker found him. He is in the hospital.

WOMAN IS SHOT DEAD; HUSBAND IS WANTED

CUMBERLAND, MD., Aug. 13.—(Special.)—Frank Conway, a well-known resident of South Cumberland, this evening, it is charged, shot and killed his wife, formerly Miss Gertrude Shannon, the shooting taking place at Westernport. Mr. and Mrs. Conway were attending a carnival at Piedmont, and this evening Conway saw his wife in company with another man. He quarreled with his wife and then drawing a revolver, it is said, shot her. Conway immediately made his escape, going up Georges creek into the mining region, where officers are searching for him.

KAISER WILHELM GRIEVES OVER DEATH OF LEVETZOW

BERLIN, Aug. 13.—(Special Cable.)—The kaiser is deeply grieved over the death of Albert von Levetzow, who died last night at his country seat, in Neumark, having been sick only a few days. The world will remember Von Levetzow as the man who, on March 23, 1895, when the reichstag refused to congratulate Prince Bismarck on his 80th birthday, without a minute's hesitation resigned as president, and was applauded by the whole nation. He was decorated with the highest honors of the empire, but though a title had repeatedly been offered him he had always declined to accept it.

KAISER WILHELM PUNISHES BRUTAL ARMY OFFICERS

BERLIN, Aug. 13.—(Special Cable.)—Goaded on by public opinion the kaiser's war against brutal officers in the army continues. The latest sensation comes from Aix la Chapelle, where a color sergeant has been sentenced to seven weeks' imprisonment for making soldiers drink petroleum as a punishment.

WOMAN FALLS DEAD DURING HERBERT CONCERT

SARATOGA, Aug. 13.—(Special.)—Just as the last notes of the "Star Spangled Banner," the good-night selection of the Victor Herbert concert in the Grand Union hotel park, died away this evening Mrs. Mary Sproule, who had been on a balcony listening to the music, rose from her chair and, tottering a few seconds, fell forward dead into the arms of her daughter. Mrs. Sproule was passionately fond of music and it is believed that her heart was affected by the excitement occasioned by the concert.

GERL'S BODY FOUND IN HUDSON RIVER

New York Police Think Allegheny Man Was Accidentally Drowned.

IDENTIFICATION NOT CERTAIN

[The Pittsburgh Gazette Bureau, Herald Building, Herald Square, NEW YORK, Aug. 13.]

The unknown man whose body was found in the Hudson river at the foot of One Hundred and Sixty-third street yesterday is believed to be Adolph J. Gert of Allegheny, Pa. A photograph of Gerl, who has been missing two weeks, was received by the police, and when taken to the morgue the resemblance to the river victim was so marked that the detectives were satisfied that the body was that of Gerl. A message was sent to the Allegheny police asking that some one who knew Gerl be sent to New York to make the identification positive.

Andrew Marshall and John Lloyd, attendants at a bathing pavilion at the foot of One Hundred and Sixty-third street, found the body floating yesterday. It was badly decomposed and abrasions were found over each eye. The police believe it was a case of accidental drowning.

Beyond the cuts, which were probably caused by bumping into some floating object, there was no other evidences of violence. The condition of the body indicates that it had been in the water about two weeks. It was removed to Bellevue for an autopsy. The body is that of a man somewhere near 40 years old, and it weighs about 160 pounds. The hair and closely cut mustache are black. It was only partially dressed, in a pair of drawers and black and white striped overshirt. Around the neck were loosely tied two handkerchiefs. There were no marks of identification on the clothing or body.

FIRST NEWS OF GERL CAME FROM NEW YORK

Family Cannot Understand How He Reached That City. Wife Is Prostrated.

Adolph J. Gerl, who disappeared suddenly 13 days ago, is believed by relatives to have been robbed and murdered in New York city. The family yesterday received word from New York that when the body was found a handkerchief was tightly knotted about the man's neck, and that he died of strangulation.

Simon A. Kuhn of No. 1025 Perry street, a brother-in-law of Gerl, and Harry McGuire of Liberty street, Allegheny, last night went to New York. They will endeavor to identify the body found, and if it proves to be that of Gerl, they will have it shipped to his home. Mrs. Gerl was prostrated by the news from New York, and last night was compelled to keep to her room.

Gerl's sister-in-law and Charles Rall of the Kerstone Piping & Construction Company of Pittsburgh visited all the local hospitals, and on Wednesday went to the morgue to learn if any unidentified body had been received there that would answer the description of the missing man.

The first information the family received of the missing man was when an item was found in a Pittsburgh paper Wednesday evening, in which it was stat-

ALVA C. DINKEY IS PRESIDENT

Succeeds William E. Corey as Head of Carnegie Steel Company.

JUDGE REED'S PLACE

Becomes Chairman of Board of Directors, Position Once Held by H. C. Frick.

OTHER IMPORTANT CHANGES

As a result of the advancement of William E. Corey to the presidency of the United States Steel Corporation, the board of directors of the Carnegie Steel Company yesterday accepted his resignation as president of the latter company and named Alva C. Dinkey as his successor. Next in importance was the revival of the office of chairman of the board of directors, a place occupied by Henry C. Frick at the time of his retirement from the Carnegie company. Ex-Judge James H. Reed was elected chairman.

Immediately upon the election of Mr. Dinkey as president, this official appointed Asor R. Hunt general superintendent of the Homestead steel works, a position held by himself since the election of Mr. Corey as president of the Carnegie Steel Company, and H. D. Williams as general superintendent of the Duquesne furnaces and steel works. Mr. Hunt was formerly general superintendent of the Duquesne plants, and Mr. Williams was assistant to Mr. Dinkey. The announcements as above were predicted at the time Mr. Corey was made assistant to President Charles M. Schwab of the Steel Corporation.

Mr. Dinkey, like the distinguished men who have gone before him, has received excellent training in all departments of the Carnegie company's plants. He was born in Weatherly, Carbon county, Pa., in February, 1866. While quite young his parents removed to Braddock, where he studied telegraphy in addition to attending the common schools. At the age of 16 he qualified as telegrapher for the Baltimore & Ohio railroad at Braddock, and this may be said to have determined his career. He learned much of electricity, which served him well in after life. His record from that time is as follows: Telegraph operator, Homestead steel works; mechanic, Pittsburgh locomotive works; identified with electric arc light construction in Pittsburgh; clerk in the office of the general superintendent Homestead steel works; instrumental in installing electricity in the plant; transferred to the engineering department, where he invented many devices; invented the electrical controller which bears his name; in 1896 made assistant general superintendent of the Homestead works, and in 1901 succeeded W. E. Corey as general superintendent.

Mr. Hunt has been connected with the operating branch of the steel industry for about 20 years. He was first employed in the Homestead works as a roller on the 32-inch slabbing mill, and in a few years was appointed superintendent of the mill. He continued as superintendent of the plate mills until June, 1901, when he succeeded Joseph L. Schwab as general superintendent of the Duquesne works of the Carnegie Steel Company.

Mr. Williams was born in Johnstown in 1865, and was educated in the common schools and at Lehigh university, where he took a special course in metallurgy. In 1890 he entered the service of the Carnegie Steel Company as superintendent of the Bessemer converting department of the Homestead steel works, with supervision also over the blooming mills. Upon the appointment of Mr. Dinkey as general superintendent of the Homestead works, Mr. Williams was made his assistant.

SENATOR PLATT DENIES ENGAGEMENT TO WIDOW

NEW YORK, Aug. 13.—(Special.)—Senator Platt today denied emphatically the report published in a local society paper that he was going to be married to a young Washington widow. "It's false," he said. "I've seen that story in print and have asked to have it contradicted." The young widow in question is prominent in social and diplomatic circles in Washington.

BOY CONFESSES ATTEMPT TO CAUSE TRAIN WRECK

WILLIAMSPORT, PA., Aug. 13.—(Special.)—Walter Alexander, aged 16, of Cogan station, was arrested today by Pennsylvania railroad detectives on a charge of attempting train wrecking by placing several planks wedged down with stones on the Northern Central track. When arraigned before Alderman Baltis today Alexander pleaded guilty and was held in $3,000 bail.

BIGELOW PICKS HIS CANDIDATE

Favors Harry S. Calvert as Fusion Nominee for Office of Sheriff.

HAS A DOUBLE REASON

Democrats Will Keep Man for Prothonotary Under Cover Until State-Making Is Over.

CONFEREES ARE NOT NAMED

Thomas S. Bigelow yesterday uncovered his candidate for sheriff. It is Harry S. Calvert, who for a number of years has been the political writer of the Leader. Mr. Calvert says that he is undecided about accepting the fusion nomination. So far the Democrats have not unveiled their man for prothonotary.

While Mr. Calvert has been closely associated with Mr. Bigelow in his three fights to gain control of the city and county, and has rendered valuable service to the head of the Citizens' party, practical politicians credit Bigelow with a double motive in the starting of the young man. Aside from his desire to reward Mr. Calvert, it is rather evident that Mr. Bigelow hopes to reach over into the Republican party and enlist the services of a strong Republican in the fusion fight.

George A. Chalfant of Etna, the recognized Republican leader of the Seventh district, is a father-in-law of Mr. Calvert. He has always been a staunch Republican and the Citizens have not been able to break down the organization of which he is the head. Mr. Chalfant was urged to take the chairmanship of the county committee this year, but he declined and his close personal and political friend, Thomas J. Ford of Etna was named. Mr. Chalfant is now in Europe and will not return until about August 25.

It Is Up to Calvert.

Mr. Calvert lived in Etna for a number of years, his father having been pastor of the United Presbyterian church in that town. Mr. Calvert is now a resident of the Twentieth ward. Yesterday Bigelow, Mayor Hays and James A. Clark said that they favored the nomination of Mr. Calvert, but that so far he had not consented to accept.

James A. Clark has changed his mind about when the Democratic fusion committee will be named. He had intended to make the names public yesterday, but has decided that there will be no announcement until Monday. Last night he went to Atlantic City, where he will remain until Sunday night. Three of the conferees have been decided upon. Under the resolution authorizing the appointment, Clark becomes a member of the committee. He said yesterday that he would name W. J. Brennen and George S. Fleming. The latter will return from the east Sunday night and will be consulted about the selection of the other two conferees.

If the conferees had been named last night there would have been numerous candidates for prothonotary in the field today. Each man would have tried to line up the conferees for himself. The Democrats want to be able to slate a man for the place and not be bulldozed by numerous applicants. It is likely that committeemen will not be announced until Monday night. The ticket is to be slated the next day.

Have Hidden the Slate.

There is reason for believing that Clerk and Brennen have their man slated, but do not want to bring him into the limelight until it is too late for the Democratic knockers to do effective work. Thomas S. Bigelow said yesterday that he thought Casper Mayer of Bridgeville would be the choice of the Democrats. This is strenuously denied by those who are in close proximity to the slate and pouch. Mayer jumped the fusion traces last fall and has not since been in high favor with the Democratic leaders.

The nomination of Mayer would also create trouble among the Citizens of the Sixth legislative district. They wanted Charles D. Utterman of Scott township slated. Some time ago Fetterman said that the Sixth district Citizens would never agree to the nomination of a Sixth district Democrat.

In addition to Mayer, Alderman J. A. Belcher of the Twenty-fifth ward and J. W. Sloan of the Nineteenth ward are mentioned for prothonotary. Sloan is secretary of the Democratic county committee and has been the recipient of many kicks from the heads of the fusionists. He tried to secure several county jobs, but each time found himself on the "overlooked" list. Several months ago he announced his candidacy for prothonotary, but he has never been given any encouragement.

Murry A. Verner returned yesterday from Lakewood. During the afternoon he conferred with Bigelow on the fusion plans.

GREAT TRACTION DEAL.

Rapid Transit Interests Aim at Control of All New York City Systems.

NEW YORK, Aug. 13.—(Special.)—A traction deal, which will include all of the surface and elevated lines in the borough of Manhattan, and which will also reach out into neighboring boroughs, is in process of completion. There have been rumors for several days that the Belmont interests, allied with the Pennsylvania railroad and Long Island railroad, will secure control of properties in Long Island City and Brooklyn, and that they have gained a large interest in the Metropolitan system.

The final policy of the Rapid Transit interests is believed to be the possession of all the lines in this vicinity, and well informed persons said today that this is steadily being carried out by purchases of stocks from time to time that will give these interests control of the entire field.

GILKESON ENDS HIS BUSY CAREER

Former State Banking Commissioner Dies at His Home at Bristol, Pa.

HAD LOSING FIGHT WITH QUAY

Served With Pennsylvania Troops During the Rebellion and Took Prominent Part in Politics Later—Was Delegate to Memorable National Convention.

[Special Telegram to The Gazette.]
PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 13.—B. Frank Gilkeson, former banking commissioner, died tonight at his home at Bristol, near here, of paralysis, with which he was stricken recently at Lake George, N. Y.

B. Frank Gilkeson was born in Bristol, Bucks county, August 23, 1842. He was admitted to the bar in 1864, and has practiced his profession there ever since. He had served as deputy prothonotary under his father, prior to his admission. During the war of the rebellion he was a member of Company I, Seventeenth regiment, Penna. militia, under command of James Gilkeson. He was one of the trustees of the Norristown asylum for the insane from 1887 to 1889.

In 1888 Mr. Gilkeson came to the front in politics. He defeated the Blaine candidate for delegate to the Republican national convention. At the request of Senator Quay, Gilkeson voted for Sherman for president in the convention until it became apparent that the Ohio man had no chance of winning.

Appointed by Harrison.

In May, 1889, President Harrison appointed the Buck's county leader second controller of the treasury, after having been under consideration for deputy commissioner of internal revenue, and judge of the Florida district. When President Cleveland was inaugurated Mr. Gilkeson resigned his federal position, but his resignation was not accepted until three months later.

In August, 1890, Mr. Gilkeson was elected Republican state chairman. He conducted the campaign which resulted in the election of Daniel H. Hastings by the largest majority ever given a candidate for governor in Pennsylvania. Gov. Hastings appointed Gilkeson commissioner of banking at a salary of $7,000 a year, and this position he held until January, 1895, when he resigned because Hastings failed to appoint him judge of the superior court to succeed Judge Howard Reeder.

Mr. Gilkeson was brought into much prominence by his candidacy for state chairman in opposition to Senator Quay. Gov. Hastings and Col. Quay had differed, Hastings wanted the Pennsylvania delegates to the national convention support him for the presidential nomination. Quay had declared for McKinley.

State Chairmanship Fight.

A combination to retire Quay from state leadership was formed. State Senator C. L. Magee of Pittsburgh, David Martin and Charles Porter of Philadelphia joined with Hastings to dethrone Quay. In order to defeat this coalition Quay found it necessary to become a candidate himself for the position of state chairman. The anti-Quayites decided that Gilkeson should oppose him. It was one of the most exciting political battles in the history of the state and attracted national attention.

When the fight began it looked as though Quay had no chance of winning. The organization opposed to him was one of the most powerful ever perfected in the state. Quay organized headquarters in Philadelphia and placed Senator W. H. Andrews in charge. Gilkeson always a friend of Quay, was personally opposed to being a candidate, but his official connection with the Hastings administration compelled him to stick. When the fight was still young Gilkeson went to Hastings and said:

"I think I will withdraw from this contest."

"Then send me at the same time your resignation as commissioner of banking," replied the governor.

Accepts Defeat Gracefully.

Mr. Gilkeson remained in the contest until the convention met in Harrisburg, Aug. 28, 1895. The test of strength in the convention was made on the temporary chairman. The Quay people put up John P. Robinson of Delaware, and the combine Henry Hall of Pittsburgh. Robinson was elected by 27½ majority. Quay, on motion of Mr. Gilkeson, was unanimously elected state chairman and as an exchange of courtesies Gov. Hastings was made permanent chairman of the convention on motion of Col. Quay.

Since his retirement from office Mr. Gilkeson has attended every Republican state convention and in the gubernatorial contest of last year he joined with Mr. Quay in supporting Gov. Samuel W. Pennypacker.

CHAMPION HARRY FORBES BEATEN BY FRANK NEIL

Chicago Bantam Weight Put Out in Second Round by Fierce Punches.

[Special Telegram to The Gazette.]
SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 13.—A couple of left shifts put Champion Harry Forbes out of business in the Mechanics pavilion tonight. Frank C. Neil fought like a demon. He had the better of the argument all through.

The fight came in the second round. Neil had got short left hooks under Forbes' chin in the clinches and had twice swung his left to Forbes' cheek in such a way as to jar the champion through and through. Forbes was trying with a straight left and right upper cuts but could not find a hole in the local lad's defense. After a clinch Forbes ran into a left shift with Neil's left on the stomach and he fell to his hands and knees, writhing in pain. He reached his feet and clinched, and after a few seconds fought back at Neil like a tiger.

They had a fierce rally in the corner of the ring, Forbes being sent down a second time. When he arose he steadied himself and met Neil's rush. He caught Neil a terrific right-hander on the side and Neil sprawled to the floor. Neil jumped up and they mixed it in fierce fashion. Once again Neil employed the left shift, landing with full force on Forbes' stomach, and as Forbes dropped to his knees, Neil uppercut him with the left.

The effect of the two left shifts were with Forbes to stay. He rolled under the ropes and was counted out.

WILD MAN LEAVES A TRAIL OF DEATH

Killed Three Persons and Injured Many Others at Band Concert.

HIS OWN DEATH SICKENING

After Being Shot by a Policeman He Drew a Revolver from His Pocket and Fired Shot Into His Own Body.

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]
WINFIELD, KAN., Aug. 13.—Gilbert Twigg, aged 30 years, supposed to be insane, appeared on the principal street of this town tonight with a double-barreled shotgun, and fired both charges deliberately into a crowd of 5,000 who were listening to a band concert.

He killed three people, fatally injured three and shot 20 others, of whom six may die. Twigg was himself killed by a policeman.

The dead are: Sterlin Rice, a carpenter; Dawson Tillotson, a barber, brains blown out; D. Bowman, a carpenter, of Oxford, Kan.; Gilbert Twigg.

The injured: Mrs. John Barnard, shot in the neck; James Clarkson, shot in the back and arm; R. E. Oliver, shot in the shoulder and back; Clyde Reed, shot in the hip; J. B. Storey, shot in the chest and knee; William Wilkins, Charles Thomas.

Thirteen others were less seriously wounded.

The band had just finished playing a waltz when Twigg stepped out from an alley a half block distant, and deliberately taking aim at the band stand, fired two shots. R. E. Oliver, a band man, fell at the first shot, but the crowd, not realizing what had happened, rushed toward Twigg, believing that there had been an accidental shooting of some kind.

As the crowd closed in the crazed man discharged two more shots at them, causing a scattering in every direction. With the crowd fleeing, the man stood firing at random in every direction. Men and women howled and shrieked and ran, but no one seemed able to stop the frightful carnage, until Policeman George Nichols confronted Twigg and fired a bullet into his head. Before life was extinct the demented man drew a revolver from his pocket and fired a shot into his own body.

The dead and dying were by this time scattered all over the street and the frightened people sought safety in flight. It was fully an hour before they realized what had happened and recovered sufficiently to take care of the injured.

Gilbert Twigg was a miller by trade. He was commonly referred to as "Crazy Twigg," but no one thought him dangerous.

GERL'S BODY FOUND IN HUDSON RIVER

ed that a man answering Gerl's description had been found dead in New York. Gerl's relatives immediately sent a picture and description of Gerl published this week in a Pittsburgh paper to the New York police by special delivery, and the message received by them yesterday followed.

At Gerl's home it was stated last night that for several weeks previous to his disappearance he had been suffering from severe headache at the base of the brain.

Adolph J. Gerl.

The pains had become almost intolerable and he finally consulted Dr. Robert Ferree of Chestnut street, Allegheny, in the hope of securing relief.

On the morning of August 1 Gerl started for work at 7:15 o'clock as usual. He had been employed as timekeeper and paymaster by the Best Manufacturing Company of this city for the last four years, and it was at the company's office that he was last seen alive. When Gerl's relatives started the investigation into his disappearance they learned from a driver of the Best Company that he, Gerl, walked out of the office at the plant shortly after he arrived there on August 1. At the time, he left his hat, glasses and keys on the top of his desk, as though he intended to return to his office. That was the last seen of him.

When Gerl left home he had about $75 and carried a valuable gold watch and chain. Attached to the chain was a Royal Arcanum charm. Whether the watch and money were found on his person when the body was discovered is not known to his relatives, neither is it known how he managed to get to New York undetected, unless he purchased a ticket before leaving Pittsburgh. The family believes that the pain in his head affected Gerl's brain and caused him to disappear.

Gerl was born in Vienna, Austria, 40 years ago, and came to Pittsburgh to live about 20 years ago. He was for a time employed as a job printer, and became well known among printers in this section. He later entered the service of the Best Manufacturing Company, and his affairs when last disappeared were in a prosperous condition.

Gerl was licensed as a local preacher, and for some time past had been preaching twice daily, and on Sunday occupied the pulpit in the Arlington Avenue church of the Evangelical association. He was also president of the Young People's alliance and gave the society much of his spare time.

CONTEST FOR AIRSHIPS.

Entering Paris While City Is Besieged Is the Feat to Be Accomplished.

PARIS, Aug. 13.—(Special Cable.)—France will be the first country in the world to have an aerial navy, and this city will soon be the scene of regular aerial maneuvers, as, in addition to the experiments with M. Santos Dumont's airship, the French war minister has decided upon an open contest for airships in the hope of solving a problem which was found impossible of accomplishment in the war of 1870.

During the siege of Paris many balloons managed to get safely out of the city, but not one succeeded in re-entering the beleaguered capital. An area representing a besieged city will be mapped out for the purposes of the experiment, and competitors will be required to reach it from a given point not less than 30 miles away within a stated period.

Want Pittsburgh Plant.

Almost all of the car wheel plants of any importance which turn their product into the open market will consolidate with a combined capacity of 2,700 wheels per day. The Keystone Car Wheel Company, with main offices in this city, is included in the combination. Plans are under way for the formation of the new corporation, and it is said that the deal will likely be carried through.

YOUTSEY ONCE MORE IS WITNESS AGAINST POWERS

Gives Damaging Testimony Against Man Accused of Slaying Gov. Goebel.

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]
GEORGETOWN, KY., Aug. 13.—On the witness stand for three hours in the afternoon the convict Henry Youtsey, gave damaging testimony against Caleb Powers. He testified that in January, 1901, he signed an affidavit for Powers as to his innocence to present to the Republican judges of the court of appeals, to secure from them a reversal of the life sentence given Powers. He said that at the time he signed that affidavit Powers and himself knew it to be false, and that before he would consent to affix his signature to it he required Powers to sign an agreement waiving the truth or falsity of it, and also agreeing never to let it become public or to use it openly in court, and to return it to him within 15 days.

He says the affidavit was not returned by Powers, and he kept the written agreement. He produced the agreement in court with Powers' signature attached. Youtsey's cross-examination was not completed and will be resumed tomorrow.

At the morning's session there were several other witnesses examined, among whom was a messenger boy who saw the gun barrel sticking from Powers's office when Goebel was shot.

DOWNTOWN HOLDUP.

Duquesne Man Beaten and Robbed by Highwaymen in Diamond Street.

Another holdup, in which a man was beaten almost insensible and robbed of $32, occurred in Diamond street, near Smithfield, early this morning. The highwaymen were discovered at work by two boys employed by the Associated Press, and they notified Officer Morgan Conley, who arrested one of the men in a Fifth avenue restaurant. The other two men, one of whom was a hero, escaped. The man arrested was taken to Central police station with his victim. He gave his name as George Hobert and said he is an Allegheny barber. A woman's watch and $17 51 were found in his possession.

Officer Conley had passed the street a short time before and was on his way to Fourth avenue when overtaken by the boys and notified. On seeing the officer Thomas Showden left the street with a man appeared down the street. Shortly after the boys discovered the men standing at Fifth avenue and Smithfield street and notified Officer Conley. When the men saw him coming, two of them started up Fifth avenue and the other ran into the restaurant. The officer saw the destination of the latter and placed him under arrest. Showden, who is 35 years old, was also taken to the police station and locked up on a charge of drunkenness. He was badly bruised by the highwaymen. At the police station he alleged the man arrested was one of the highwaymen.

SALISBURY VERY ILL.

Former Premier of England Suffers Exhaustion and Condition Is Critical.

LONDON, Aug. 13.—Lord Salisbury is seriously indisposed, according to information direct from his family at Hatfield House. The late premier is greatly exhausted and physicians are in attendance.

Lord Salisbury, whose health was seriously shaken by the death of his wife in November, 1899, was ill on the continent during the whole of last winter. It is stated tonight that there is no immediate danger, although it is admitted that the condition of the marquis of Salisbury is critical. He has not been well for months and at present exhaustion is pronounced.

ANOTHER GRAVE ROBBER MAKES A CONFESSION

Indianapolis Police Capture Another Suspect — One Is Thought to Be in Pittsburgh.

[Special Telegram to The Gazette.]
INDIANAPOLIS, Aug. 13.—The police today found William McElroy, Sr., implicated by the Cantrell-Martin confession exposing the wholesale murders that were committed by the two leaders of the ghoul organization and their associates. McElroy was closeted with Captain Gerber four hours. At the conclusion it was intimated that McElroy, after protesting his innocence, had weakened and confessed.

The police tonight, after satisfying themselves finally that neither Garfield Suckner nor Ollie Sanders is in Indianapolis, will send descriptions of the two men to surrounding towns with instructions for their apprehension. Sanders is believed to be in Pittsburgh.

Evidence that leads the police to suspect that at least three other terrible murders were committed by the organization of cut-throats, has also been collected. The mystery of the body of the murdered woman found in the cellar at the North side confessed by another witness, whose testimony has to do with the murder of Richard Jordan, is still unexplained.

SUSPECTS CAPTURED.

Arrest of Two Negroes Believed to Be Pocketbook Snatchers.

Inspector William J. Hoyle made two arrests yesterday of negroes suspected of snatching the pocketbook of Mrs. Thomas Rankin in Homewood Wednesday afternoon. Joseph Barton, 32 years old, of No. 1326 Penn avenue, Wilkinsburg, was arrested in Homewood yesterday noon. Barton had a large quantity of valuable jewelry and would not say where he got it.

Later in the afternoon Joseph Green, alias Williams, of Negley's Run, was arrested. The men were held together and it is believed that they have worked together. Barton was recognized by the police of Wilkinsburg last night as the man who broke open a butcher shop in Wilkinsburg some time ago. Barton served 90 days in the workhouse and has been out only four weeks.

It is believed that these are the men who have been committing the petty thefts and snatching pocketbooks in the East End.

EARTHQUAKE KILLS FIVE.

Mendoza, Argentina, the Scene of Most Serious Disturbance Since Disaster of 1861.

BUENOS AYRES, Aug. 13.—(Special Cable.)—New reports from Mendoza say the earthquake last night was very strong. Besides five killed, many were wounded, who are now being attended at the hospital. The houses destroyed were principally situated in the quarter called Pueblo Viejo, near the ruins of old Mendoza, which was destroyed March 80, 1861, when perished more than 7,000 persons.

The authorities closed the schools until all the edifices are thoroughly inspected. The tower of the church of San Francisco, which collapsed, was 34 meters high. It came down through the choir loft and destroyed a splendid organ.

WIFE DYING; HUSBAND IN JAIL.

Another Branch of the Cawley Family Is in Dire Distress.

In a modest little home at No. 5434 Dresden alley, Mrs. James Cawley is lying at the point of death from alleged cruel treatment. Four children, whose ages range from 6 to 18 years, hover over her sick bed, while Blanche, another daughter, aged 10 years, is being cared for by neighbors and is apparently demented.

James Cawley, the husband, who is a cousin of Charles Cawley, now awaiting trial on a charge of killing his mother, brothers and sisters in their home in Homestead, last October, is in jail awaiting trial on charges of non-support and desertion, preferred by his wife before Alderman Owen Kellher. Cawley was sent to jail in default of bail, and since then the mother and little ones have on several occasions been on the verge of starvation.

Supt. James F. Bell of the Humane society will investigate the charges brought against the husband.

Got Too Gay During Business Hours.

At the request of one of the firm of Randolph & McClements, florists, one of their employes, C. Stewart, of No. 311 Rebecca street, was arrested yesterday, charged with being a suspicious person. Stewart was sent out to attend to some business for the firm. It is said that while so engaged he drank too freely and then he started in to drive around the town at a good pace, caring not where he was going.

No Decision in Blue Law Cases.

Alderman E. C. Negley reserved his decision in the cases of the Wilkinsburg druggists who were given a hearing before him yesterday. They are W. L. Smith, J. Pauley and S. W. Covell. The information was made by J. J. Campbell, a member of the committee of 12.

REBELS TO FALL UPON CHRISTIANS

The Continued Macedonian Outbreaks Portend a General Massacre.

WHOLE TOWN IS MURDERED

Only Twenty Persons Escape Bulgarian Insurgents in a Large Turkish Village. President of Macedonian Committee and an Associate Arrested.

[Special Cable to The Gazette.]
VIENNA, Aug. 13.—Steadily the tide of revolution is rising in Macedonia. Daily news comes of an outbreak in some fresh spot with its usual attendance of massacre. The ugliest side of the picture is the report that the harassed Moslems, goaded by the ruins of Saraff and his men are on the verge of falling on their Christian neighbors and inaugurating a general massacre of Christians. If this is done it is difficult to see how intervention can be postponed.

The Turkish authorities realize that anything of this sort would be playing directly into the hands of their enemies and they can be depended upon to do all in their power to prevent it. But it is believed here that the sultan's soldiers are in full sympathy with the rebels and when not under the eyes of higher officers are more likely to help in the work of slaying the Christians. Some cases of this sort are already reported.

The steady flow of young men from Bulgaria, Servia and Montenegro to the insurgent standard continues. It is claimed by members of army commissions here that there are 200,000 men in arms and that they are the pick of the fighting men of the Balkans.

SALONICA, Aug. 13.—Information from Monastir is to the effect that the insurgents have occupied Klisura and Pisserdere and that the Albanian rebels have been disgracefully defeated in the Dobyrako region. A Turkish post near Sorovitch has been robbed.

It is reported that the Bulgarian insurgents have massacred the inhabitants of the large Turkish village of Kenali near Monastir. Only 20 escaped.

SOFIA, BULGARIA, Aug. 13.—Gen. Tsontchef, president of the Macedonian committee, and his friend, Col. Jankoff, both of whom are ex-officers in the Bulgarian army, have been arrested by the Bulgarian police near the Macedonian frontier under the suspicion that they were on their way to join the revolutionists.

U. S. S. MASSACHUSETTS IS NOT BADLY DAMAGED

Temporary Repairs Will Be Made Before Proceeding to Navy Yard.

[Special Telegram to The Gazette.]
BAR HARBOR, ME., Aug. 13.—The battleship Massachusetts, which grazed a pinnacle of Egg Rock shortly after leaving Bar Harbor with the North Atlantic fleet yesterday, moved to the inner harbor this afternoon. Capt. Manning decided this morning to transfer 100 tons of ammunition to the smaller boats. An investigation by divers revealed two punctures and there may be others. Temporary repairs will be made which will enable her to reach a navy yard.

Capt. Manning this evening said: "The water is still confined to the two forward compartments and we only work our pumps 15 minutes in three hours."

When asked if the examination had disclosed the nature of the rock struck he said:

"Yes, it was most certainly a pinnacle, which must have broken off after we struck it, for there are no marks on the ship back of the two punctures that have been found. If we had been a few feet further out the accident would not have happened."

The Indiana, sister ship to the Massachusetts, is still with her. She has also moved down into the inner bay. The Scorpion, which accompanied the Massachusetts back yesterday, was sent to rejoin the fleet today.

The damage to the Massachusetts may cost a large amount to repair. One hundred thousand dollars was spent on the Massachusetts when she grounded in New York harbor in 1899. The pilot of the vessel was suspended for this accident.

APPEAL TO CARNEGIE.

Kaw Valley Flood Sufferers Will Ask for the Loan of $250,000.

TOPEKA, KAN., Aug. 13.—(Special.)—At a conference of the Wyandotte county relief committee with Governor Bailey today it was decided to appeal to Andrew Carnegie for a loan to the Kaw valley flood sufferers. It is estimated there are nearly 8,000 homeless people in the Kaw river valley.

A majority of these are working people in the bottoms and the members of the flood committee are unable to loan these people money with which to repair their damaged houses. It is estimated that $250,000 would put these houses in shape for habitation and it is proposed to ask Mr. Carnegie to lend this amount to the people. The flood relief committee will ask that the money be placed in their hands and they will lend it only to responsible persons and charge a fair rate of interest for its use.

BANKING INTERESTS NOT OPPOSED TO ROOSEVELT

NEW YORK, Aug. 13.—(Special.)—The Wall Street Journal quotes "the head of one of the recognized strongest banking houses in Wall street" as follows: "We have noticed the attacks of certain newspapers and have heard of the protests of certain interests against President Roosevelt, partly because of his attitude on the question of publicity for corporations. We are not in sympathy with any of these attacks on President Roosevelt. We consider that Mr. Roosevelt has on the whole made a good president and we believe he will make a better president during his next term."

Woman Dies in Dentist's Chair.

NORRISTOWN, PA., Aug. 13.—(Special.)—After having extracted several teeth for Mrs. Emma Cunliffe of 1902 Iseminger street Philadelphia, who was under the influence of chloroform, Dr. Bauman of Telford, in whose office the operation took place, was unable to restore her to consciousness, and she expired in about half an hour after the drug was administered.

He was engaged in business with his brother-in-law, William Henry, in the grocery firm of Wendle Rind, Sharpsburg, until he retired from business 20 years ago. He never married and was the last of his family.

LAKE FISHERMEN PREPARE TO FIGHT

They Will Resist Seizure by Canadian Revenue Cutter on Lake Erie.

ANGERED BY SPRAY INCIDENT

Petrel Has Seized Fishing Vessels in American Waters and Vigorous Defense Measures Will Be Taken—Regular Sea Fight Expected.

[Special Telegram to The Gazette.]
DUNKIRK, N. Y., Aug. 13.—Dunkirk fishermen are greatly aroused over the action of the captain of the Canadian revenue cutter Petrel, who yesterday turned his guns on the tug Silver Spray from Erie. Drastic measures are to be used by the captains of the 20 tugs fishing out of this port to protect themselves from the captain of the Petrel, who several weeks ago captured and towed to Port Colborne, Ont., the tug Kittie D., which at the time it was proven since by actual measurements, was in American waters. The captain of the Petrel has run things with a high hand on this end of the lake for some time.

Some captains are preparing to meet the captain of the Petrel at his own game. When next the Canadian cutter tries any tactics like those of yesterday, it is not at all unlikely that shot will be returned for shot and that old Lake Erie will be the scene of a naval battle.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 13.—No complaint has come to the state department from the owners of the American fishing tug Silver Spray, which was fired on yesterday by the Canadian patrol ship Petrel, for a report reaching the Lake Erie.

At the state department little sympathy is evidenced by the officials for the American vessel. It is pointed out that the vessel should have stopped when halted by the Canadian officials, whether she was across the line or not, in the absence of official information on the subject the officials of the department are not inclined to discuss the incident, but they do not expect that the action of the Petrel will cause a diplomatic incident between the London and Washington governments.

If the department receives a complaint it will not address the London government until careful inquiry has been made as to the actual facts in the case.

ACTIONS OF VESUVIUS ARE CAUSING ALARM

Eruptions of Volcano Lead Populace to Crowd Into Churches to Pray.

[Associated Press Cable to The Gazette.]
ROME, Aug. 13.—Vesuvius is again causing intense alarm in the surrounding region, the eruptions of the volcano being very heavy today. This alarming activity which followed the shocks of earthquake is augmenting. The detonations are very loud and almost continuous, while from a fresh opening at the base of the principal crater two streams of lava are issuing, which within a few hours covered a wide tract of ground.

One stream has covered ground already arid from previous eruptions, but the other is going swiftly toward the village of Ottajano, the direction taken by the famous eruption of 1872.

The whole district around the volcano is shaken by frequent earth shocks and a perfect panic prevails, the population crowding the churches to pray or gathering in open spaces for safety. Experts, however, affirm that as far there is no reason to fear a serious disaster.

TAX COLLECTOR GETS LITTLE LONGER LIFE

No meeting of the finance committee of Allegheny councils was held last night, because of the lack of a quorum. The ordinance introduced in councils last month, providing for the reduction of the fees of the delinquent tax collector to 2½ per cent, was to have been considered. Those known to favor the ordinance were present, but it is said the tax collector managed to keep enough of the members away to prevent a quorum.

BURGLAR ROBBED PAUPERS OF CASH

Admitted to Marshalsea When Destitute, but Accumulated $300 Worth of Jewelry.

M'PHILLOMEY HAD EASY GRAFT

Professed Thief Was Proud of His Exploit and Admitted His Guilt—Carried a Fat Roll of Money While Being Supported by Pittsburgh Taxpayers.

James A. McPhillomey, expert burglar and all-around thief, has discovered the philosopher's stone, or something very like it. For months past he has been robbing the poor farm at Marshalsea and the pauper inmates. When admitted to the institution he was destitute. Yesterday he was wearing $300 worth of jewelry and had $17 in cash.

McPhillomey, who is 43 years old, was admitted to Marshalsea in January. He was destitute and was taken there by friends of Director James W. Clark. They did not know McPhillomey but thought that he needed care and shelter. After Director Clark admitted him, a series of robberies occurred in the institution. Many of the inmates have small amounts of money given or sent to them. This was taken from their pockets most mysteriously. One night last month the office was "jimmied" open and $42 taken from the drawer. A few nights later the office of the medical department was entered in the same manner, and $30 was taken.

The inmates were watched during these months, but McPhillomey was not suspected. He made friends with Director Clark, who said he was the most useful man about the institution. McPhillomey was a good mechanic and did a great deal of repairing. For this he was allowed many privileges, and occasionally permitted to visit friends at night.

Accumulated Valuable Jewelry.

One morning McPhillomey returned to the institution with a handsome gold watch and chain, and a diamond charm, valued at $200. He told the officers it was a present from a relative in Butler county. He went away again, returning with a diamond stud, valued at $100, also said to be a present. He was frequently known to have $700 in his possession.

Director Clark became so annoyed at the robberies that he once detailed McPhillomey to watch certain inmates.

McPhillomey's efforts produced no results and the director sought the Superintendent of Detectives Thomas A. McQuaine, who detailed Detectives Kelly and Wallace to make an investigation. Detective Kelly was walking through the building and to his surprise he saw McPhillomey.

"Why, hello," said Detective Kelly. "What are you doing here?"

"Oh, nothing, Dick; just living here," replied McPhillomey. "I am too old for the road now, Dick."

"Jimmy, I want to talk with you," said the detective. "Where did you get that watch?"

"It was given me," said McPhillomey.

Admitted His Guilt.

"That won't do, Jimmy. You have been having an easy time here. I think I will take you to the station house," said Kelly.

McPhillomey then admitted having committed the robberies about the place and was brought to the city.

McPhillomey has served a number of terms in the Western penitentiary for burglary and larceny. He served nine years for burglary committed in Lawrence county. Detective Kelly and former Superintendent of Detectives Solomon Coulson, arrested him for burglary in Pittsburgh. He served two years on that charge. McPhillomey was born and raised in Butler county and is well known through police circles as a burglar and professional thief.

When taken into the cell department by Detective Kelly, he turned to the detective and said:

"Dick, that was the easiest graft I ever had."

INDEPENDENT BREWERS WILL PROBABLY UNITE

If Philadelphia Promoter Fails, Local Capitalists Will Take Up Plan.

Independent brewers of Western Pennsylvania are not without offers to form a combination with a capitalization of over $3,500,000, and if the present plans of John P. Persch of Philadelphia fail to materialize, local capitalists will accomplish the same results, only on a broader plane. Options have been secured by Philadelphia men, who are represented by Mr. Persch, on the principal plants in the Pittsburgh district with a view to consolidating them, and it is said on good authority that the independent owners are united for a sale, provided the money is forthcoming. Reports have had it that the Duquesne Brewing Company was at the head of the negotiations. Officials of the company say that this is not correct.

Three Pittsburghers are now waiting the outcome of the options, and if they are not covered the local capitalists will step in and complete a combination which will be able to rival the Pittsburgh Brewing Company. One of the interested parties said yesterday:

"At present we cannot do anything because the plants that we want are optioned and have been for some time. We do not want options. We have the money to purchase outright without any delay, and then, after getting a sufficient number of plants, apply for a charter. We propose doing this if the eastern men fall down. I have not been able to find out if they have the money. I do not say that they have not. I do know that almost all of the independent brewers of Western Pennsylvania will sell to the combination if a good price is offered. Good prices have been offered. I am told.

"The trouble with the present plan is that the promoters are unable to say what their stock will be worth, and I do not believe they will give cash for the purchase. This will probably be a drawback that will not bother the men who have the ready money to put up for the breweries."

NEGRO HAD A BAD AIM.

His Bullets Went Wide and He Was Well Thrashed for His Poor Marksmanship.

Councilman David K. Boyd and his sister, Miss Martha Boyd, of Turtle Creek, had narrow escapes from being shot in the library of their home yesterday afternoon, by stray bullets from a revolver with which a negro was practicing near by.

Two of the bullets shattered a window in the room, and after passing close to where Mr. Boyd and his sister were seated, lodged in a bookcase. A third shot shattered another portion of the window and a fourth went close to Mr. Boyd while he was attempting to locate their source.

The negro was found in a field nearby shooting at a mark. He was given a thorough beating and driven away by Mr. Boyd.

PARTNER OF DENTIST CHARGES EMBEZZLEMENT

Dr. Charles M. McDonald, who formerly conducted a dental parlor in the Bijou building, in Penn avenue, was held in $500 bail for court by Alderman McMasters yesterday on a charge of embezzlement. F. W. Gilbert claims he installed McDonald as manager, with an agreement that they were to divide the profits. McDonald, according to Gilbert, failed to do this, and is short in his accounts $350.

Union Smoker to Be Held.

CO-OPERATION IS NEEDED BADLY

Dr. Batt Says Poor Directors Must Provide for Indigent Smallpox Victims.

MUST ALL WORK TOGETHER

If Disease Is to Be Stamped Out, State and Local Boards Should Have the County's Assistance—Handicapped by Lack of Funds.

"The co-operation of the poor directors in Allegheny county with the state board of health and the local boards of health is absolutely necessary if the spread of smallpox is to be stayed and if the disease is eventually stamped out. Smallpox conditions in this county are alarming, and action must be taken at once to check the mortality rate and the rapid increase in the number of cases."

This statement was made last night by Dr. Wilmer R. Batt of Philadelphia, state quarantine officer at large. He has been in this city for about six weeks organizing the school boards to fight the disease, and in trying to compel the poor directors to do that which he claims is compulsory under law. Continuing, Dr. Batt said:

"The poor directors, under the law, must take care of indigent cases of smallpox. It is not necessary that they pitch in and stop the spread of the disease—the quarantine officers will do that—but to provide funds for the proper maintenance of poor families in whose homes a smallpox victim. The poor directors have the power to secure money from the county commissioners for this purpose, and it is their duty to do so.

Conditions Bad in the County.

"I have been on a tour of most of the counties in the state, and nowhere have I found such alarming conditions in regard to smallpox. The disease is flourishing with as much virulence now as five years ago. The conditions are particularly bad in the boroughs and townships, whose educational funds are eaten up to maintain poor victims of smallpox.

"In this county there are 11 individual health organizations. These all work separately and there is little co-operation. The quarantine is done by the school boards in the boroughs and townships, and they are compelled to support the family in quarantine. To do this the educational funds must be taken. County Superintendent of Schools Hamilton says that yearly between $50,000 and $100,000 is eaten up to maintain poor families having smallpox, and which should go for educational purposes. The money of the boroughs and townships is thus eaten up and a local tax must be levied or the schools closed.

"The borough of North Braddock is without any health organization whatever and it contains 7,500 inhabitants. All the business in connection with smallpox has been done illegally thus far. Other boroughs have health organizations but no officers. This condition would not exist if the poor directors and the state and local health bureaus got together and endeavored to relieve suffering in the county in a machine-like manner."

Officers Are Handicapped.

Dr. S. M. Rinehart, state quarantine officer for Allegheny county, concurs with Dr. Batt in his views on the situation in this county, and the two are working together to have the poor directors take the matter up and provide for the indigent who are afflicted with smallpox. Dr. Rinehart stated last night that every possible effort had been made by him under great difficulties to relieve the smallpox situation in the county.

But Dr. Rinehart was handicapped by lack of funds. He and Dr. Batt say that they will fight until the poor directors do what they should do according to law. About two weeks ago mandamus proceedings were instituted by Drs. Batt and Rinehart against the poor directors to make them care for the indigent smallpox patients. The papers were taken by Judge Shaffer, who remarked that it was clearly the poor directors' duty to care for the poor in smallpox cases. He said he would hold the papers pending their making up their minds to do their duty.

The poor directors met at Woodville yesterday afternoon with their attorney, Thomas F. Ford. It was decided that they take no action until Judge Shaffer hands down his decision. In view of this agreement it is expected the decision will be handed down either today or tomorrow.

Only one case of smallpox was reported to the Pittsburgh bureau of health yesterday. He was Thomas J. Donavon, 34 years old, of No. 817 Edmond street.

SUPERIORS ASSIGNED OVER WIDE TERRITORY

Close of Triennial Conclave of the Pennsylvania Province of the Capuchin Fathers.

The triennial conclave of the Pennsylvania Province of the Capuchin order closed yesterday afternoon in St. Augustine's monastery.

The Rev. Father Carl, the newly elected provincial, with Fathers Joseph Anthony, Benedict, Hermann, Joseph and Constantine, his advisers, appointed these superiors: St. Augustine's, Pittsburgh, Father Joseph Anthony; Herman, Pa., Father Martin; Cumberland, Md., Father Constantine; Victoria, Kan., Father Basilian; Wheeling, W. Va., Father Hermann Joseph; Canal Dover, O., Father Marcus; Charleston, W. Va., Father Agatho; Hays, Kan., Father Richard; Monjor, Kan., Father Leo.

Eleven fathers have been assigned to St. Augustine's this year instead of 10, as heretofore. They are Father Carl, the provincial; Father Joseph Anthony, the superior and rector; Fathers Gabriel, Patricius, Clemens, Augustine, Angelus, Godenard, Chrysostynos, Paulus and Ignatius. The rector and the last four priests named have not been in the Pittsburgh monastery during the past year. Father Joseph Anthony was rector of St. Augustine's six years ago and returns to this city from Wheeling. In addition to the fathers, five brothers have been assigned to the Pittsburgh house.

Father Hyacinth, formerly provincial, will go from Pittsburgh to Monjor, Kan., and Father Peter, chaplain at St. Francis' hospital, has been assigned to Wheeling. Father Celestine, who was first in the Pittsburgh monastery, will go to Victoria, Ellis county, Kan.

Father Marcus, the newly appointed superior of the monastery at Canal Dover, O., is a native of Pittsburgh and was raised in St. Augustine's church. He is now about 40 years of age. His surname is Haas, and his mother is still a member of the church in Thirty-seventh street.

PITTSBURGHERS DYING FROM POISONED WATER

Seventeen Persons Died Last Week from Typhoid Fever—Filtration Project Still Lags—Bigelow Ready to Give Information.

Seventeen deaths and 91 new cases of typhoid fever were reported in Pittsburgh for the week ending last Saturday. Six new cases of the disease were reported in the city yesterday.

The daily figures of new cases of typhoid fever are so familiar to the public that the monotonous reiteration of those evidences of the water borne epidemic are apt to become so familiar as to prevent the people from fully realizing the danger from the continued absence of filtered water, were it not for the weekly report of the deaths from typhoid fever.

The records of the health bureau show that there were 91 cases and 17 deaths last week. When it is considered that every one of those deaths would not have happened were the city's drinking water filtered one can realize the enormous responsibility resting upon the persons accountable for delay in providing a filtration system.

Dr. J. P. Sterrett is the chairman of the councilmanic committee appointed to confer with Director E. M. Bigelow regarding the cost of a sand filtration plant to supply filtered water to the entire city, the South Side included. Three members of the committee were appointed at a special meeting of the common council. A few days afterward select council held a special meeting, at which nothing but filtration was considered, and the other two members of the joint committee were appointed by President John S. Lambie.

By the terms of the resolution adopted by both branches, the director of the department of public works is instructed to have estimates prepared and to submit them to councils at the first regular meeting on September 15.

As the councilmanic committee was directed to aid the director in preparing estimates, Dr. Sterrett has refused to call it together until the director's return from his vacation. Director Bigelow got back yesterday, and Dr. Sterrett said he expected to see him and make arrangements for a joint meeting between him and the committee.

When the director was asked yesterday whether he would soon meet with the committee, he evidently did not know what committee was referred to. When told that during his absence one had been appointed by councils, he said:

"This is the first information I have had that such a committee was appointed. I have been away for a long time and have seen but one Pittsburgh daily paper, and I do not know what has happened here. Some time ago I said I would be glad to give councilmen the benefit of any knowledge of filtration and of the investigations made by the department that I might have. I will stick to that, and will be glad to meet the committee you tell me about."

Two members of the committee, Charles Stewart and Joseph G. Armstrong, are out of the city, but they are ready to return whenever the committee may meet to organize.

REJECTED SUITOR'S SUIT.

Bride to Have a Hearing Today Because She Did Not Return Lover's Gift.

Mrs. Eva Berlin, who was committed to jail on a charge of larceny by bailee of some diamonds presented by a rejected suitor on information before Alderman Toole, Wednesday, was released yesterday on bail. Dr. Sol Berlin secured bail for his wife, and was very angry when seen at the jail yesterday. He threatens to bring suit against Samuel Golden for having his wife arrested.

Dr. Berlin is a graduate of Columbia college, New York, and met his wife in that city. Golden also lived in the same house. The physician and Golden were ardent suitors for Mrs. Berlin. Golden presented her with diamond earrings. She afterward married Dr. Berlin and Golden demanded the jewels back. Mrs. Berlin will have a hearing this afternoon.

BUSINESS FOR COUNCILS.

Important Matters to Be Taken Up at the First Fall Meeting.

When councils meet they will have important business to transact. The Pennsylvania railroad's Duquesne franchise has been passed by common council but has not yet been taken up by the select branch. The ordinance granting the Baltimore & Ohio railroad rights to a portion of the Monongahela wharf is still in the hands of the select council's committee on corporations.

The resolution turning over to the trustees of the Carnegie institute the property recently acquired by the city for a technichal school site, is in the hands of the joint finance committee, but will be reported out at the first meeting. The finance committee also has before it the contract for removing garbage.

There are other measures which councils will have to dispose of, such as the general franchise tax on corporations, the franchises for five new light and power companies, and some measures for public improvements.

Asthma Can Be Cured

The statement of Mr. J. F. Homan, 20 E. Adams St., Chicago, proves that the worst cases of Asthma in the world are not only relieved, but are readily cured by Dr. Schiffmann's Asthma Cure. He says: "Asthma kept me in terrible misery for ten years until I used your Asthma Cure. After the first trial I was a changed man. I went to sleep that night and awoke next day much relieved and I have gotten entirely over the Asthma. It is now nine years since I was cured."

Mr. W. Sererus, Cavalier, N. D., says: "I was troubled with asthma for 20 years, about 8 years ago I started to use your Asthma Cure, and have not had an attack for six years."

Sold by all druggists at 50c and $1.00. Send 2c stamp to Dr. R. Schiffmann, Box 804 St. Paul, Minn., for a free trial package.

In the career of the burglar committed to Marshalsea there is a lesson, if not a moral. He went in with nothing; he came out with the entire wealth of the colony—cash, $17; portable property, $300. Our friends, the Socialists, who are ever clamoring for equality and division of the spoils, might learn something from this incident, for it aptly illustrates what would happen if they could organize their imbecile state of society and some clever rogue should happen to get into it.

Some days ago we referred to the report of the British royal commission in favor of restricting immigration on similar lines to those provided in this country, but more stringent. There are several features not mentioned in the cable report of that day. Immigrants who prove to be undesirable may be deported at any time within two years of their landing at the expense of the steamship company which brought them, and in the case of the conviction of an immigrant for crime or misdemeanor the court may make deportation part of the sentence. A special feature of the proposed regulations is that the immigration department may specify certain over-populated areas as prohibited territory for fresh immigrants.

Vesuvius is again active and earthquake shocks are being felt throughout Southern Italy, extending to Malta and Greece. The crust of the earth in that region seems to be like a kettle lid trembling under the force below, while Vesuvius acts as the kettle spout. Since the historic destruction of Pompeii, the people of the surrounding country have kept on the lookout for its outbreaks, but before that period it had been quiescent for ages, so that the outbreak was altogether unanticipated. Although the danger is fully recognized there is a constant tendency to get too near and occasionally vineyards and plantations are buried under lava and ashes. At present a new stream of lava is pouring from the south side of the cone of the crater.

The trade returns for the last fiscal year show a steady growth of commerce at the leading southern ports. In the northern Atlantic ports there was a slight decrease of exports in the last fiscal year, but there was an increase in southern ports. During the past 10 years the export trade of New Orleans has increased 91 per cent; of Galveston, 177 per cent; of Savannah, 214 per cent; of Mobile, 280 per cent. While in all other customs districts the total increase has been 58 per cent, it has been 87 per cent for all southern customs districts. It is estimated that 38 per cent of the total exports of the country is composed of southern products, and the proportion may increase as the south has become the chief scene of new industrial development.

Fighting has become general in Macedonia and the losses in battle are already equal to those of an ordinary South American revolution. At one point the Turks have suffered most severely and at another the insurgents, but in either case it may be taken for granted the death list includes practically all of the defeated force. The Turks and the Balkan peoples are all fighters to the finish. "Strike till the last armed foe expires" is as much the motto as in the time of Marco Bozzaris, and, be it said with shame, too often the slaughter is continued until the women and children are also exterminated. Nothing can now prevent war in Macedonia, for the war has begun. The only question is whether it can be prevented from spreading to Bulgaria and thence to the greater powers.

The accident sustained by the Massachusetts illustrates the value of the compartment method of construction and also the perfection of discipline which obtains upon our men-of-war. When the Massachusetts grazed a rock the shock of the collision was felt and the danger signal brought every man jumping to his post without excitement. The compartments were closed, thus limiting the effect of the leak to the immediate vicinity. The leak communicated with four compartments and about 140 tons of water entered, but the ship could have gone on as if nothing had happened and would be safe. The injury is not extensive and soon be repaired. The rock grazed by the Massachusetts was uncharted and soundings taken immediately before showed 18 fathoms. It was a pinnacle of the kind that is numerous on the Maine coast, surrounded by deep water.

Vice Admiral Cervera's retirement from the position of chief of staff of the Spanish navy recalls the chief events of the war between this country and Spain and the injustice done that gallant commander upon his return home. The outcry against Cervera never had any ground of reason. His fleet was not more completely destroyed than that of Montojo at Manila. He, in fact, fought better under less advantageous circumstances. The truth of the matter is Cervera was attacked in influential quarters because he happened to be a Free Mason and because he was treated cordially and given the honors due his rank in this country. Justice triumphed in the end, however, and instead of censure the victim of Santiago was given praise and promotion. He deserved both and now in his voluntary retirement he has the good wishes of the generous foe that conquered him and the respect due to a gentleman.

A New York police magistrate on Tuesday discharged 32 women who had been arrested on charge of street walking, on the ground that women had as much right to walk the streets as men if they behaved themselves. We think that is good law and sound morals. Because people are sinners that does not destroy their rights as human beings or as citizens, and the practice of the police in periodically gathering up women on the streets whom they suppose to be immoral is really a species of blackmail. It is not at all necessary in order to repress vice and it is a mark of inefficient police administration. When such things are allowed respectable women who have to go out in the evening are liable to be subjected to humiliating indignity. One of the women arrested in this particular haul of the New York police was a well-known music teacher 40 years old. As soon as she was brought to the station house it was seen that a mistake had been made and she was released, but meanwhile she had been crowded into a patrol wagon with the other women.

A Terrible List.

Last week there were 17 deaths from typhoid fever in this city and 91 new cases reported. The death rate as usual indicates a percentage of cases not reported to the bureau of health until the filing of a death certificate becomes necessary. The ascertained death rate in typhoid is about one in ten. Of course, out of any given number reported in one day or one week no doctor would assume to say how many will die or how many recover. Last week may have shown unusual virulence of the disease, but study of the tables will make it apparent that all cases are not reported, while all deaths from the disease must be.

The salient point is that at 17 deaths a week the year will exceed the most terrible estimates. Deaths for the first six months indicated a total of something over 500 for the year, but the rate is increasing, so that 600 is within the easy bounds of possibility, unless the citizens take every means open to them to protect themselves, such as using private filters, boiling drinking water and the like. There is no doubt that every person should take these precautions during the next three months at least—the season when typhoid is most prevalent. Meantime, the constituted city authorities cannot ignore the record. It is up to them to provide the permanent remedy, and that is plainly the system of sand filtration, indorsed by successive commissions and for which the people have voted funds. Director Edward M. Bigelow is home and there is no good reason why he and the councilmanic committee may not get busy at once.

Incidental to this subject it may be noted that the statement was made in the alum water organ yesterday that a physician said the "newspaper scare" assisted in swelling the typhoid mortality, as indicated by 17 deaths in one week. We do not believe any physician would make such a ridiculous statement. There is no "scare." If there was we are sure the typhoid patients are not reading the newspapers. The unfortunates who are swelling the mortality lists go down with fever, pass into delirium and cease to have knowledge of their intimate friends who are about them. How ridiculous, then, to assert they are capable of reading newspapers and that they are being frightened to death. But that is about as near reason or argument as the alum water advocate can get.

The Case of Miss De Cris.

The investigation in the Georgia woman flogging case has been completed. No report has yet been made, but the facts developed put the case in a different light from that in which it first appeared.

The woman in the case, Miss Marie De Cris, was formerly a saleswoman, whose display of jewelry caused her to be known as "the diamond queen." She was arrested on charge of theft and the facts brought out showed that she was a great romancer. She told her employer that she was engaged to a wealthy man, who was fond of giving her diamonds, but for family reasons his name could not be made known. It was proven that she had gratified her taste for jewelry by theft and fraud, and she was convicted and sent to the prison farm.

In her testimony before the investigating committee she said that at first she was given house work to do and was kindly treated, but a change took place when Warden Allagood made improper proposals to her and was repulsed. The immediate occasion of the whipping was some words with the warden's wife. Miss De Cris denied that she used disrespectful language, but went on to say: "When she ordered me to stop talking and go back to my room I refused, and when Warden Allagood returned he was told by Mrs. Allagood and he whipped me."

The whipping was done with a broad strap, not on her flesh, but over several thicknesses of clothing. The prison physician testified that he examined her before the whipping, which took place Sunday, June 26, and found that she was in excellent condition physically and that there was no reason why she should have been excused on that score. He was present when the whipping was administered and testified that the blows were laid on with moderation and caused no laceration. The next day, Monday, she was sent out to work in the field as further punishment. On Tuesday she worked a half day and during the rest of the week worked in the field only one day.

Testimony was given to the investigating committee by persons who knew her well that the woman is addicted to sensational and imaginative statements. One reputable witness said: "I believe she is of unsound mind and naturally a falsifier." No evidence nor any circumstances tending to show that Warden Allagood is the kind of a man she alleges him to be could be discovered by the investigation. Both the warden and the prison physician have a good reputation and the woman's charges are generally discredited.

The prison officials contend that she was punished for insolence and insubordination, that the punishment was applied in the usual way and that instead of being exceptionally severe was lighter than usual. The evidence tends to support this view of the case, but the fact remains that a white woman was flogged and sent into the field to work with a hoe, an occupation to which she was altogether unaccustomed. Apart from a few days of field work as a punishment her work has been of light character, mostly at the sewing machine. Had she not been a white woman the matter would not have attracted any attention, but southern indignation is immensely stirred up by the fact that a white woman was flogged and sent out to do field work in company with negro women. The Georgia state senate has, in advance of the report of the investigating committee, passed a bill prohibiting the whipping of women prisoners, white or black.

The Philadelphia Muss.

The Philadelphia Republican organization has admitted its mistake and the illegality of its action in assuming the functions of a nominating convention to force the name of Robert von Moschzisker on the county ticket for the vacancy on the bench of common pleas court No. 3 of Philadelphia. The admission takes the form of a determination to order primaries for the election of delegates to a convention to make the nomination. Unfortunately, there accompanies this a declaration that the convention will nominate the organization's present choice. The course of events in Philadelphia following the death of Judge McCarthy has made an issue between the organization and the governor, and it is clear from the discussions in progress that the force of public opinion is with the governor who has clinched popular support by the character of the man he has selected for the judgeship in opposition to the choice of the organization. Gov. Pennypacker has set a high standard in naming Mr. Bispham for the bench and the people would gladly accept him as the Republican nominee. They ought to be given the opportunity to do so. If the city organization is wise it will recede from its apparent determination to force the nomination of Mr. Von Moschzisker. But if the committee is not disposed to abandon its candidate he can win the good opinion of the people and establish a claim on them for future preferment by declining to be a candidate. He would thus, also, let the committee out of a tight place and thereby have a new claim on the leaders of his party, as well as upon the people. It is an opportunity that seldom falls to the lot of a young man to relieve a difficult situation to his own credit and advantage, and without any actual sacrifice of his prospects, for there is more to be really gained by an honorable retreat of this sort than could be attained by a hardly achieved victory. The determination of the organization to stand by Von Moschzisker justifies the declarations that its selection of him was intended to force the governor into compliance with its wishes against his best judgment as to the needs of the bench, and it ought, at least, for its own credit and the good of the party, leave the field open and not attempt to dictate to the delegates who shall be nominated. If not prompted by higher considerations its course ought to be dictated by the consideration that success in this instance will not be worth what it will cost in the way of present effort and prospects of future trouble. If only the governor were to be reckoned with the leaders of the Philadelphia committee might not need to count the cost, but they ought not to overlook the circumstance that in opposing the governor as they have done and in continuing their opposition to a man so heartily approved as is hi sappointee, they furnish a rallying point for opposition of every sort, and start a fire that may spread not only in Philadelphia, but out through the state. The political troubles of Philadelphia are not wholly its own.

The Irish Land Bill.

There is only the royal approval wanting to make the Irish land bill law. It has passed the house of lords finally by a good majority, though the Irish lords did what they could to defeat it. Of course, the royal approval will be given. King Edward authorized an announcement in the house of commons that left no doubt about his attitude toward the measure, and we may be sure that announcement helped its passage through the house of lords.

At this juncture it is fair to consider the effect of the act. It will not prove a panacea for all the ills from which Ireland has suffered. It would be idle to expect that. It should, in time, cure the chronic poverty of that island. In the beginning the measure will likely prove a disappointment. Its provisions can only be applied gradually. The Irish people are impulsive and aggressive. They are optimistic. They will naturally expect too much at once and may abuse the land purchase scheme because it does not immediately yield universal prosperity. But as time passes they will be more content.

The land bill provides means whereby the land may be possessed by those who will till it for their own advantage. Those means will ultimately be taken advantage of and that will give to agricultural Ireland a prosperity it has never known. Capital has never found any other class as profitable to cater to as land-owning farmers. The backbone of American prosperity is vested in that class. Capital will be quick to see the open field for industrial development, and that should add to the wealth of the new land holders by making a better market for their products, and it should afford employment for the non-landholding population. It is in this manner that the land bill may redeem Ireland by degrees, and those who know the energy of the race abroad cannot doubt its achievement when given a fair field at home.

Whether the new conditions will cause the Irish people to forget the dream of independent home rule, or to cherish it more dearly, time alone can tell. Certain it is that if a land owning agricultural people and a prosperous industrial people strive for home rule they are more likely to gain it than a people who have naught but sentiment with which to support their demand. It may be that prosperity and occupation for their energies will still political desires that now seem of paramount importance. If so, nothing is lost. But if the desire shall remain when the country has developed its resources by orderly processes, it will probably be gratified without a struggle.

While it may be true, as the Philadelphia Record says, that we have the unimpeachable testimony of Mr. Schwab that the cost of steel production is so much less in this country than in Europe that we can pay freight charges, lay it down in European ports, and yet undersell foreign manufacturers at a profit to ourselves." The wonder is that all the people who have been frittering away their time in other lines of activity haven't been getting rich underselling the foreigner instead.

If the Philadelphia organization has concluded that its nomination of Von Maschzisker didn't take, with the nominee, it ought to be sure that a second one will take with the people.

Mr. Bigelow makes a whole county ticket while the reporters wait, which, of course, demonstrates that when it comes to nominating candidates the people are not in it with him.

IN VACATION.

Oh, where is the rest of vacation,
The peace and the quiet I sought?
Is this sort of thing a recreation,
Pray what do you call dissipation
And freedom from care and from thought?

To rise while the roosters are crowing,
The glorious sunrise to see;
To put in two hours of hard rowing
Before signs of breakfast are showing,
That doesn't come easy to me.

To ride over roads rough and dusty
In buckboards contrived without springs
And drawn by a horse far from lusty
Will make one cut up sort of rusty,
Is not the most pleasant of things.

To loaf on a bench where it's boiling
And fill up one's shoes with the sands
Is not much improvement on toiling,
My temper most surely it's spoiling,
Yet some people think it is grand.

And then after dinner there's dressing,
Of course, for the usual hop.
The music is always distressing;
It isn't far short of a blessing
When limp with exhaustion they stop.

Then off to my bed hard and lumpy,
To toss there awake half the night.
No wonder I'm gloomy and dumpy,
No wonder at all I am grumpy—
Vacation is such a delight.

The Quiet Observer.

By ERASMUS WILSON.

For it stirs the blood in an old man's heart,
And makes his pulses fly,
To catch the thrill of a happy voice
And the light of a pleasant eye.
—N. P. Willis.

And can you blame him?

Isn't the old man human, and isn't he still alive?

They do say, however, that an old fool is the worst sort of a fool.

And why not?

If a man is a good man, the older he grows the better he is, or, if he is a bad man, the older the worse, of course. Don't this hold good with the man who is a fool?

But fools don't count, nohow. They are not in the game, be they young or old.

Besides, the happy voice and pleasant eye that stirs your blood and makes your pulses fly, don't belong to a fool of a woman.

The poet was not writing about a fool of a woman and a fool of a man. This sort of thing was left for Kipling, and other poets of his sort. Our kind of a poet writes about our kind of people, and they are good people, of course.

* * * * *

What do you think of a fellow who courts a girl for a reasonable time and then has to ask her if she loves him?

He is bad enough, in all conscience, but the fellow who woos a fair lady most ardently for a long time and then sues for her hand without knowing whether she is willing for him to have it, is too bad entirely.

Don't you think you would have read the answer in her star-lit eyes long ere you asked the fatal question?

But what of the fellow who falls upon his knees, wallows around on the floor, raises an awful dust, and musses himself all up, in his efforts to get his soul's idol to say yes?

These are the Kipling sort—the sort that become daffy over "a rag and a bone and a hank of hair." These are fools, of course, for Kipling says so in the same verse.

Is Kipling right?

You knew where you were at, didn't you? And wouldn't you know if you had it to do over again?

Wonder if any fellow ever crawled and wallowed around in the way the novel says they do, or carried on as silly as the model novel does in some of the plays which, according to the advertisements, are taken from real life? Do you think you would make the mistake of asking a girl to marry you unless you knew she wanted you to marry her? Or, if a girl should refuse you, would you do the baby act as shown on the stage and portrayed in love stories?

* * * * *

This love business may have its silly phases, and it really seems to have them—it has them, as you may know. But they only appear silly to the disinterested beholder, and not to the participants. Therefore, they are not altogether silly, but partially so.

And, according to the novel and the play, the blind, stupid lover who can't see and understand that the girl doesn't love him, sometimes wins out by his tricks, and goes home thinking he is happy. He only thinks he is, for he is too stupid to know anything certainly.

But what of the girl? To paraphrase Richard III.: Was ever woman in this fashion wooed? Was ever woman in this fashion won? And if she was what manner of woman was she, and what manner of wife would she make?

Surely such matches are not made in heaven, for such silliness belongs elsewhere. And when they are made th divorce courts are soon pestilenced to unmake them.

Such as these furnish business for tailors, dressmakers, preachers and lawyers, which is something, even if not very creditable to the principals.

Don't think for a moment any of these shoes are for you, but for the other fellow, unless some of this happens to fit you all right. They are only brought out for show—just to show what rank nonsense there is in the world, and to make sensible people feel thankful that they are not as others are—some others.

* * * * *

It seems almost incredible that a man should propose marriage and be refused. Not that women are ever ready to accept any and all proposals, but that a man should be so blind, or stupid as not to know what the answer would be.

However, there are those who think they are the whole thing, and give no need to what others may think. Because one of these takes a fancy to a girl he seems to think she fancies him, and if he gets into a crazy love fit over her he imagines she is having a fit of the same sort.

This may be the love-blindness of which we so often hear.

And yet there doesn't appear to be any sense of fitness about it, which goes to prove that it is not in accord with the eternal fitness of things, and, therefore, spurious.

It is probable that one may become so blind as not to see freckles on his sweetheart's face, nor to note the color of her hair, nor to feel offended by the squeaky tones of her voice. Nor is it at all improbable that his tastes may so change that an ugly mole becomes a beauty spot, a piggy nose assumes harmonious proportions, and a once ungainly figure takes on correct shape.

All this may happen in accordance with the finess of things. It has happened, and with splendid results, and it is likely to happen often. And to all intents and purposes it is preferable to discovering faults after it is too late.

* * * * *

A man who professes to have studied marriage proposals of various sorts, shapes and sizes, concludes that there is a right way to propose, as well as a right time. Following is a summary of his conclusions:

"The dark is the proper environment for a proposal. Be reasonably certain, however, that you are talking to the right girl. Marriage will prove to you conclusively whether or not it was the right girl.

"In proposing to an heiress, use the term, 'May I be yours?' The time to propose to an actress is just before she brings her breach of promise suit. The time to propose to a widow is when you call and she is out.

"Be careful of your words. A girl may refuse you if you say, 'Do you love me?' who would gladly throw herself into your arms if you ask simply, 'Will you marry me?'

"A proposal should be accompanied by a kiss, as evidence of good faith. If you are timid, ask a hypothetical question, thus, 'Milly, if a man about my build and prospects should ask you to marry him, what would you say?' Leave the rest to Milly.

"If you propose on your knees, you will stay there the rest of your life.

"A long engagement means a short marriage. Every cloud has its silver lining.

"If a girl takes your proposal with a gasp of surprise, be grateful, your wife will be a diplomat.

"Remember, when a girl signs articles for the marriage bout, she expects the long end of the purse, win or lose.

"No gentleman proposes before dinner.

"When a girl says 'No,' she means 'No.'

"When a girl says 'No-o,' she means 'Yes.'"

* * * * *

Those of you who have been successful in your proposals may feel disposed to differ with this authority on the subject, which you have a perfect right to do, for your opinion is as good as his, and maybe better for you.

Did she say no, or even make a motion to say such a thing to you?

Do you believe any sensible woman ever said no in a case of this kind when she meant yes? If she did you can bet she was rattled and lost no time in taking it back.

It isn't right to circulate such falsehoods, for they may lead some girls to say the wrong thing under the impression that it is good form and thereby miss the chance of their lives.

And yet a girl so foolish as to say no when she meant yes, and at such a time, is hardly fit to marry at all.

Be honest and outspoken in your answer, for it is the most important answer you will have to give in this world.

Scotch Conservatism.

Attention is being attracted to a rule of a Scotch cricket club providing that "excessive swearing may be punished by expulsion." We see no ground for criticising the rule. Moderate and conservative swearing seems to be necessary for Scotch games, but Scotch conservatism resents extremes. In the game of golf, for example, we have known ministers of the gospel to be aroused to the pitch of observing "Aw, putty!" The unregenerate go much farther, and the Scotch rule would no doubt greatly elevate the plane of conversation if generally adopted in this country.—Indianapolis Sentinel.

Talked of in New York

GEORGE C. JENKS.

[Special Pittsburg Gazette Correspondence.]

NEW YORK, Aug. 13.—Pittsburghers are coming into New York at the rate of about a hundred a day. More than a hundred were registered at the various hotels yesterday and managers of hotels say that the number seldom falls below 80. In addition to these, it should be remembered that there are others who are already here to be taken into account. Hotels were never so pressed for room as they are now. Not only from Pittsburgh, but from cities all over the eastern and middle states, the rush of visitors is something enormous. There are several reasons for the influx. One is that everyone taking a vacation whose route lies anywhere within 500 miles of the metropolis, is sure to make a few days visit to New York part of his itinerary. Manhattan is, in a way, a clearing house for Atlantic City, for there are few Pittsburghers who spend a week or two at the great seashore resort without running down to New York for at least a day, unless circumstances positively forbid it. Many of those who are registered at Manhattan hotels are buyers for the big retail establishments in Pittsburgh, who make their trip one of pleasure and business combined. The rush will last for another two or three weeks, and then there will be a lull until the fall rush begins. In one large hotel this morning the clerk told a Pittsburgher in my hearing that he had only one small room left—a room which had no outside windows, but looked into a hall. The Pittsburgher did not like it, of course, but the clerk told him that if he did not take it there were 50 other men who would be glad to get it. This was the truth and the Pittsburgher knew it, so he will sleep in the little room tonight.

A Magnificent Flunkey.

As indication of the tendency of uptown hotels to make use of the little decorations of social life is to be noticed at a new hotel in Thirty-fifth street, near Fifth avenue. It is an aristocratic establishment, where gentility is the keynote of the whole message, from the hall porter to the head waiter. The newest acquisition is the man who stands at the front door to receive the coming and speed the parting guest. He is an Englishman, in the full regalia of a flunkey. He has knee-shorts, silk stockings and a powdered wig, the whole set off with a mellifluous Belgravia accent, as it is heard in a "Toodmen's pub." It is worth while to go past this hotel just to witness the magnificence of the footman.

A Gruesome Coincidence.

It is a coincidence that people are trying to get a pardon for Mrs. Nack, who, with Martin Thorne, was convicted of the murder of Guldensuppe about five years ago, and that Guldensuppe's head is supposed to have been found. A skull was turned up today within half a mile of the cottage where the crime was committed, and as the relic was wrapped in a German newspaper, it is believed that it must have been that of the unfortunate Turkish bath attendant. Mrs. Nack is in prison. The police should be able to learn from her whose skull it was.

Popular Millionaire Home Again.

Mr. and Mrs. Cornelius Vanderbilt are home. Their steam yacht, the North Star, was sighted off Nantucket lightship early today and reached quarantine tonight. The ordinary people of New York see not often trouble themselves about the comings and goings of the smart set. But Cornelius Vanderbilt is something of a favorite, because he does things which are not necessarily connected with the amusements of a multi-millionaire and is altogether a decent young American. That is the way he is regarded by the Kaiser, too, and the fact that he has been made much of at the German court adds to the interest with which he is regarded in this city.

Black Maria Wrecked on L Pillar.

That unfortunate contrivance, the Black Maria, seems to be under a voodoo. It was the Brooklyn Maria that ran into an "L" pillar today and was overturned, frightening eight prisoners, locked up in the dark abaout out of the few senses they had. The driver's leg was broken, but the prisoners were got out without damage to them beyond a few cuts and bruises. There has been an agitation of late to do away with the dark van for prisoners as an old-fashioned barbarity, but it is recognized that if it had been an open patrol wagon that had been knocked endways today most likely some of the prisoners would have escaped. The Black Maria is hard on prisoners, but it is a measure of safety to the community.

Walking Delegate on Trial.

Finding a jury to try Sam Parks seems to be as hard as if he were charged with murder. Parks eyed the proceedings with a cynical half smile. He thinks he has the best of the argument and is disposed to be defiant. He tried to get a change of venue but was unsuccessful. That may be one of the grounds for his appeal in case he should be convicted of the crime of extortion.

Cost of the Great Strike.

New Yorkers have been figuring on the cost of the 14-weeks' building strike in this city to all concerned. It is estimated that $68,000,000 has been lost in wages and that $200,000,000 of capital has been tied up. In the hundred days that the building business has been paralyzed 125,000 have been idle. These figures are the result of a rough calculation, but they seem to be about correct. The trouble is not over even now, in spite of arbitration, although many big buildings, work on which was stopped for many weeks, are nearly full of busy workmen at present.

Contest Between Gormands.

There is to be an eating contest in a little town in New Jersey, near New York, this week. The champion eater, whose laurels will be in danger from another gormandizer, has a record of three plates of oyster soup, three slices of pie, ice cream, baked beans, pickles and many other comestibles not usually taken together, the whole making about a bushel of solid, with fluids to match.

Common Sense Law.

That Albany judge's refusal to naturalize people who cannot understand the English language is one of the substitutions of common sense for technical law that is calculated to secure hearty popular approval.—Washington Star.

Root and Taft.

The announcement that Mr. Root insists upon resigning his position as secretary of war, and that if his determination cannot be overcome by the president he will be succeeded by Judge William H. Taft, will create no uneasiness in the country. This is without reflection upon the present occupant of the responsible position, for he has made a remarkable record and added signally in putting our military establishment upon a better basis than ever before. He receives the more appreciative duties because he went to the duties of his office a new and comparatively unknown man. But the qualities that made him a great corporation lawyer, while yet a young man, enabled him to grasp the requirements of his place and his exceptionable executive ability and self-reliance soon made him master of the situation.

The prospect is that he will be succeeded by one who does not have to be taken upon trust or with apprehension. There are few men living today who stand higher with the American people, or more deservedly so, than William H. Taft. His popularity is not fixed by party lines, but is the result of a recognition that is inspired by the best qualities of citizenship. As lawyer, judge and chief executive in the Philippines he has shown that aptness and versatility that shows genius under the guidance of a patriotism that springs from the soundest moral principles. If there be a valid objection to Judge Taft it is that he refuses to spare himself and too often has done the work of half a dozen men. But in all his varied career he has never been placed in a position he could not fill, and if Secretary Root retires there would be a sense of security created by the appointment of his proposed successor.—Detroit Free Press.

If Mr. Root and Gov. Taft could continue indefinitely in their present positions the best possible situation attainable, from the point of view of the public interest, would be maintained; but if Mr. Root must retire, there is no man in the country so well fitted to succeed him and to carry forward his work with undiminished efficiency as Gov. Taft. Great as Mr. Root's ability has been shown to be, it cannot be said that Gov. Taft's has been shown by his conduct of affairs in the Philippines to be in any respect inferior. In fact, the president's willingness to summon him home is of itself final evidence of the great work he has done in the islands. He has not only brought about peace, but has established so large a measure of civil government, has started the Filipinos so surely along the road to ultimate self-government, that it is quite safe to leave the continuation of the task in other hands. His coming back will indeed mark the completion of the first step of our work as a civilizer in the islands. They are at peace for the first time in centuries, and they are advancing steadily in prosperity and all that makes for civilization.—New York Commercial Advertiser.

The mere routine duties of the war department in time of peace would have little attraction for a statesman with a mind as active as Mr. Root's, but he is a broader part of the administration. His counsel and influence extend over its general work. There is no other man that holds quite the same relation. The government of this country, with its world-wide interests and influence, and with its gigantic domestic problems, is a task which may well engage and absorb the highest intellects, and it will be a misfortune when the clear penetration, the constructive ability, the co-ordinating power and the steadying balance of Mr. Root are withdrawn.

It is doubtful if any man could be named who would better fill his place than Gov. Taft. Through his service in the Philippines he is especially familiar with what must constitute a most important part of the secretary's work for some time to come. It is, indeed, something of a misfortune that he must be recalled from the Philippines, where he has proved himself a great colonial administrator and has gained an ascendancy over the people of the islands that scarcely any successor can hope to match. But it is an exile which, with great opportunities, involves also risks to health, and he is entitled to relief. There is probably no other selection that would go so far to reconcile the country to Mr. Root's retirement.—Philadelphia Press.

The country will regret the loss of a man from the president's cabinet whose wide initiative, whose suggestive intelligence, whose unremitting ability have caused his influence in the government to pass quite beyond his own department. He has been a suggestive counselor all around, and an element of strength to two administrations. His record will not be forgotten.

The country will like the suggestion that Gov. Taft take his place. The president of the Philippine civil commission appears to be about the only man in sight who has the special equipment of character and experience to meet a very special requirement.—New York Mail and Express.

One does not have to agree with the policy of Secretary Root in all particulars, much less with the spirit which he manifested on some occasions, to recognize his earnest and able discharge of the responsible duties which fell to him when he accepted the war portfolio. He reorganized the army and put it on a modern footing, thereby immeasurably increasing its efficiency. The questions which were pending as a sequel of this country's war with Spain he settled in a way entirely satisfactory. Thoroughly convinced of the propriety and the right of this country to hold dependencies he pursued his policy of reducing the Philippines to a state of order and submission with little regard to the clamor of those who were ready to enlarge upon specific secondary evils of that policy. He worked on rapport with his chief and was devoted to the same ideals and actuated by the same spirit of strenuous activity.—Baltimore Herald.

Limiting Child Labor.

Georgia has endured in silence many of the remarks of her sister states as to lynchings, feuds, moonshining and the oppression of children; but criticism has not been without its value and consequence, says the Brooklyn Eagle. She has awakened to the necessity for reform. As earnest of that awakening she has enacted a bill for the limitation of child labor, and has placed the responsibility for that labor exactly where it belongs. On the parents. The measure claims parents who live on the earnings of their children as vagrants, and makes them liable to the same punishment that is meted out to other tramps. Tales, almost unbelievable, are told of beings, in the shape of men and women, who lie in their cabins in a state of drunkenness, day after day, while their children, some of them anemic mites, who ought to be in the hospital, work 10 and 12 hours a day or night, in dark, stuffy shops and factories. The community has its opinion of the philanthropists who thrive by the employment of little children, and who hire them because they are the cheapest of all laborers. It is not a good opinion. To our shame be it said that not a few of these employers are northern men, exploiting northern capital.

SUMMER CLOSING LIKE OLD TIMES

Many Mills Are Shut Down for the Much Needed Repairs.

NEARLY NORMAL CONDITION

Many New Men in Steel Works Have Never Had Summer Rest—Rush of the Past Few Years Kept Them Going Continuously.

It has been so long since there was a general shut-down of steel mills for repairs that people do not understand the idleness. In former years it was customary to shut down all the works in July or August, the three or four weeks necessary for making repairs being utilized in discussion and settlement of the scale of wages for the year. In slack times the shut-down often extended for two or three weeks longer. In recent years the pressure of orders has been such as to forbid the ordinary summer suspension, but this year the conditions are nearly normal, partly due to increased capacity, and the much needed repairs will be made.

Two of the four mills of the Homestead steel works, which suspended operations a week ago, will resume in full again Sunday night, all repairs in the plants having been completed. These are the converting and 128-inch mills. The 119 and 138-inch mills, which are also closed down for repairs, are expected to resume within a week.

Orders for an immediate shut-down of the smaller plants of the American Sheet Steel Company in Western Pennsylvania have been issued from New York, and the summer tin-up will be more general than has been the case for a number of years. Other subsidiary concerns of the United States Steel Corporation are also gradually dropping plant after plant, and it is expected that by next week more than 50 per cent of the works of the corporation will be idle.

The shut-down of the plants of the American Sheet Steel Company is favored by a momentary lack of orders. This statement was made yesterday by an official of the company. The belief has been in the country that the sudden withdrawal of the patronage of the roofing manufacturers of the United States touches the Sheet Steel Company. Notice has been served that their contract, which expired a few days ago, after being in operation for six months, would not be renewed. It is not known what the roofing manufacturers will do for material.

The agreement was begun about two years ago, when the American Sheet Steel Company practically forced the roofing manufacturers to take its product, as it had absorbed all the independent plants. There was no other way for the roofing manufacturers to secure their raw material, which consists principally of black sheets, and they accordingly made contracts on a sliding scale of prices.

The plants at Hyde Park, Leechburg and Saltsburg have suspended work, and it is not known when they will start again.

All of the 23 mills of the Sheet Steel Company at the Aetna-Standard plant, Bridgeport, O., it is reported, will be idle Monday, due to lack of orders. It was stated at the mill that orders may be received Monday, but that they have no assurance that such will be the case. It may be that the mill will be off a week.

NINE DOCTORS FAILED.

Systemic Catarrh Was the Trouble—Pe-ru-na Cured.

Another Happy Home Due to Pe-ru-na.

MR. CHAS. SCHMIDT, 442 15th Ave., Newark, N. J., writes:

"I feel better than I ever did before. I was sick for a year and a half. Had nine doctors, but none of them could help me. Your Peruna has brought me back to health. I can eat and sleep well, and am no longer weak as I was. I had trouble with my throat, had pain in the lungs, heart and liver, then in the sides, chest, kidneys and stomach. I had headache so much that I could hardly do my work. No doctor could help me, and I spent all my money for nothing until I began to take Peruna. I have now taken half of the seventh bottle, and I shall not have to take any more, for I am now well. I express to you my sincerest thanks. I feel good and am getting fat. My wife takes Peruna also."—Mr. Chas. Schmidt.

Systemic catarrh is often called by many other names. Few doctors realize the cause of this condition. They call it stomach trouble or kidney trouble and doctor for these diseases without once realizing the cause of the trouble.

Catarrh is the cause. That is, catarrhal inflammation of the mucous membranes lining all of the internal organs. The catarrh may have begun in the head or throat, and being neglected has pervaded the whole system.

Something to soothe and cleanse the inflamed mucous membranes is what is needed and all that is needed to correct the many disagreeable symptoms of systemic catarrh.

Catarrh May Permeate the Whole System.

Mrs. Mary E. Sampson, West Derry, Rockingham county, N. H., writes:

"I had terrible headaches, both ears ran and I was nervous all the time, also had trouble each month; was deaf in one ear for thirty years. I took six bottles of Peruna and one of Manalin and am happy to say that it is the best medicine that I ever used. I am not so nervous, my appetite is good, everything I eat agrees with me, and I am feeling better in every way. I think Peruna is a godsend to women and a blessing to suffering humanity."—Mary E. Sampson.

If you do not derive prompt and satisfactory results from the use of Peruna, write at once to Dr. Hartman, giving a full statement of your case, and he will be pleased to give you his valuable advice gratis.

Address Dr. Hartman, President of The Hartman Sanitarium, Columbus, Ohio.

August generally the dullest month of the year in the Dry Goods business.

Not so here this August.

Yesterday and day before we sold more Mohairs than any day this year.

It was fine Mohairs under price that did it.

This lot of blacks was part of the 200-piece deal advertised, that had not arrived then.

Lot $1.25 Black Mohair Sicilians, 54 inches wide, $1.00.

Mohairs are good the year round—and to most people it's not necessary to call attention to their usefulness and superiority.

Lot 50 cent Black Mohairs—solid, black cords and plain blacks, 44 inches wide, 35c—for bathing suits these wide good ones at 15c a yard under price are good property.

Those who haven't we want them to come and get some.

They're light and medium dark stripes—good and pretty—and always useful.

The goods will prove that—what a chance it is.

BIG HAUL MADE BY PICKPOCKETS

Thieves Busy at United Presbyterian Reunion at Conneaut Lake.

VALUABLE LOOT RECOVERED

Two Men Arrested on Train and Taken to Meadville—Twenty-Five Thousand Persons Attended the Annual Outing of the Church.

[Special Telegram to The Gazette.]

MEADVILLE, Pa., Aug. 13.—A wholesale raid by pickpockets was attempted and was partially successful this evening as the 25,000 excursionists to the United Presbyterian reunion were boarding the trains at Exposition park, Conneaut Lake. The party of thieves is said to consist of three men and a woman who "rushed" the crowd to one of the trains, securing a rich haul. However, the arrest of two men in the party by W. N. Green, a railroad detective, and a deputy, resulted in the recovery of much of the stolen property. The men arrested were brought to Meadville and in their possession was found $800, several diamonds and six watches. The other man and the woman made their escape. W. T. Coleman of this city, lost a $450 diamond stud.

The great crowd spent the day at Exposition Park visiting and enjoying the various amusements. A program of music by a male quartet and recitations by the Rev. S. C. Paxton of Irwin, were given in the auditorium, but there was no set program of speech-making. All effort at making this occasion a formal one has been avoided by the managers of the outing each year, and an increase in attendance annually has resulted. The picnic today was declared by the church authorities to be the largest ever held under the auspices of any religious denomination in this part of the state.

The only accident reported was to Lester Keith, an Allegheny boy, who broke his right wrist in a peculiar accident while rowing on the lake. The lad's companion in the boat turned the oar down heavily on Keith's arm unintentionally, causing a painful injury.

The crowd was even larger than the railroad officials had prepared to handle, but early in the day, when it was seen that the attendance would be a record-breaker, extra cars were added to the special trains. One of the most interesting incidents of the day was at the noon dinner, when the big grounds from end to end were covered with tables, benches and every serviceable piece of wood that cloth or basket could be placed on.

PRIZES ARE AWARDED FIREMEN AT LATROBE

McKees Rocks Band Gets First Premium and Pitcairn Second—Big Parade.

[Special Telegram to The Gazette.]

LATROBE, PA., Aug. 13.—This was the banner day of the convention of Western Pennsylvania firemen here. The parade this afternoon started on Lloyd avenue, West Latrobe, and passed over the principal streets. It disbanded at the reviewing stand on Ligonier and Depot streets.

The event of the morning was the band contest, in which only two bands were entered. The McKees Rocks band was awarded the first prize of $50, and the Pitcairn band received the second prize of $25. The parade was the biggest ever held in Latrobe or the vicinity. Its length astonished even the officers of the organization.

All last night bands of firemen paraded the streets, making the time as hilarious as possible. An impromptu skillet brigade was organized, each member carrying two iron skillets and beating them against each other. The confetti throwers were everywhere. About 10 o'clock the confetti supply ran out and the crowd fell back upon flour and cornmeal, which they threw upon every one. Street railway traffic was practically at a standstill.

Connellsville received the first prize for the finest uniformed department, and also for the finest hose cart. Sharpsburg took the prize for the finest hose wagon. Uniontown, first prize for the finest hook and ladder truck; McKees Rocks, first prize for the largest number of men in line. The other prizes have not been announced.

BREACH OF PROMISE ALLEGED IN A SUIT

Washington Society Girl Wants $1,000 Damages from John C. Watson.

[Special Telegram to The Gazette.]

WASHINGTON, PA., Aug. 13.—A $10,000 damage suit for alleged breach of promise has been filed here. Miss Caroline Gamble, a prominent society girl of Washington, has sued John C. Wilson, superintendent of the Washington Brick Company, for failure, as she alleges, to live up to his promise to marry her.

Miss Gamble formerly lived in Dunningsville, where she is well and favorably known. She is about 24 years old. Mr. Wilson was also a former resident of Dunningsville, the families having occupied farms adjoining. He is a widower with several small children.

The statement filed reads in part as follows: "The defendant, John C. Wilson, on or about the first day of July, 1899, in consideration that the plaintiff had promised to marry him, then and there promised to marry her at some time during the latter part of the year, 1900. And the plaintiff confiding in the promise of the defendant, from thence remained and is still unmarried, but John C. Wilson, disregarding his promise, although requested by the plaintiff, has declined and refused to marry the plaintiff, to the great annoyance and injury of the plaintiff."

HOUR SALE

KAUFMANN'S "THE BIG STORE"

Changes in prices throughout every stock that will start you towards "The Big Store"

WE'VE been through every department of the store, and repriced everything you can't do without at this season of the year. This is a gathering of new, dependable merchandise, but there's not enough of any one line to make it practical for us to keep it longer in regular stock. These and a score of other causes have decided the price reductions. This is the gist of the whole argument about this midsummer clearance sale. By helping you to purchase goods cheap, we also help ourselves. We don't care what the goods cost. We don't care how long they've been here. We don't care how late they came. We don't care what we could get for them. Out they must go! Goods don't count now—the amount in the cash drawer at this time of the year has the greatest meaning to us. Come today, and whatever it is you need you'll find you can buy for much less than you expected. See if this assertion isn't true.

GOOD CHANCE HAS JAMES J. CORBETT

Ex-Champion, in Best of Condition and Showing Old-Time Form, Is Confident.

JEFFRIES' CLAN SEES VICTORY

[Special Telegram to The Gazette.]

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 13.—If any good sport and true has an opinion to air or a forecast to make in connection with the championship fight he had better get a move on. Before another morning's newspaper appears the great event of the prize ring will be a matter of record and the "I told you so's" will be in possession of the field.

There is the clamor of many tongues around the sporting resorts just now. There is a mingling of the clans from the four corners of the United States and all subjects have been shelved but one. The Jeffries men are in the majority. They are enthusiastic in a loud-voiced way and they keep saying that Corbett has not the ghost of a chance. Is not he? The floor of the pugilistic betting ring is littered with pool tickets on which are written the names of defeated champions. The story of the Queensbury battles from the time of Sullivan and Corbett down to the Coney Island fight between Jeffries and Fitzsimmons is a record of short end victories. There was never a square fight yet where each man did not have a chance, no matter how big the seeming handicap.

Corbett has surely as much of a chance as had underdogs before him. There comes a time in nearly every fight when exertion and excitement tell their tale, when thick arms dangle wearily and feet feel as if made of lead. At such a moment it "the other fellow" is active and alert, a well-placed clip will fell a Goliath.

Until it is made to appear that Jeff is proof against excitement and fatigue—that he is different in fact, from every other fighter that ever lived—so will it be difficult to admit that Corbett has a chance. Change the names around and the same argument applies. For that matter it is claimed that it was Corbett who became tired in the former fight after showing a brilliant showing and collapsed under one of big Jeff's chin twisters.

There is no denying that Jeffries' chances of winning appear bright. He is the natural favorite, yet the circumstances are such that a pretty good argument can be framed to bolster Corbett's side of the thing.

It is claimed that Corbett has never developed the upper portion of his frame until he almost rivals Jeffries in strong-man qualities, his legs are the same old speedy legs of the days of yore, and until he is the most perfect fighting machine possible—a kind of centaur, he'll were—a pugilist with the muscles of an Atlas and the underpinning of an Ashley.

It is reckoned that Corbett's legs will stand him in need should there be occasion to cut and run, and that in consequence his physical equipment is such as to warrant the opinion that he will prove Jeff's master in every possible phase of a 20-round contest. These self-same friends of Corbett will not have it that Jeff is so well trained as he was for other fights or that his speed has increased, as intimates of the opposition camp claim. They argue that speed comes only with systematic work and that there have been too many gaps in Jeff's training for that. They also argue that the champion has increased his speed qualities. They say that if uninterrupted work has anything to do with seasoning a man for a fistic encounter Jeffries must necessarily be in better shape than Jeffries.

Jeff's Admirers Sanguine.

Those who favor Jeffries' chances present their claims in more concrete form. They simply say that in the matter of strength and with Corbett's new muscles allowed for, it is a giant against an ordinary individual. They point to the strong curves of Jeffries' chin and jaw and his powerful frame, and they say that for Corbett to stand against these successfully would be like a petulant infant beating its nurse. They argue that Jeffries' punches are more than any other fighter can withstand, and that although Corbett has proved in past fights that he is not built to assimilate hard blows. They will have it that Jeffries is really a great deal faster than ever before and that in consequence Corbett will be unable to keep out of the champion's way. As a final fling they tell how Jeff has defeated Corbett once already, and make use of the old threadbare argument that a fighter is always at a disadvantage when opposing a man who has knocked him out. There are other arguments which the admirers of Jeff delight to use—that Jeffries' last fight was a class on record where a pugilist has covered himself with glory on taking up the boxing game again after a lapse of years.

There was never an instance where an old-time fighter's frame responded to his ambition to build up as Corbett's has done. In the majority of cases attempts to fit a man for the ring after years of absence have had an effect opposite to the one sought, and Corbett's appearance is the best argument that he had a thoroughly good foundation to build on. Going further and further from the ring the sporting masses seem to regard the coming encounter as a grand tussle between brawn and brain, a test in which strength will measure itself against speed.

Corbett took things easy yesterday. Before breakfast he went for a stroll. Jim's breakfast consisted of two small nutmeg melons, oatmeal mush, soft-boiled eggs, toast and a couple of glasses of milk. He rested for an hour after the meal and then stripped for work. His exercise was of light character. He shadow-boxed with Berger for two rounds and had a stand-up wrestling match of about the same duration with Yank Kenny. Two rounds of ratatatan work with the bursting bag wound up the morning schedule, and then the camp masseurs, under the guidance of Tommy Dare, splashed Corbett with sharp smelling fluids and chafed his frame and limbs vigorously.

In the afternoon Corbett had several practice sprints, covering 50 yards each time. A walk, a rubdown and a sleeping tracheal concluded the day's work. As usual, an exceedingly large crowd of visitors was on hand, the number materially increasing by noon arrivals from the south. Most of these are old acquaintances and friends of Corbett's, and the hand shaking Jim was subjected to was a good exercise in itself. Corbett was in fine spirits, a fact commented upon by the Eastern scribes who went across the bay for the purpose of sizing him up. Corbett has outlined today as follows:

He will rest nearly all day, although I will take a short walk and possibly do some shadow fighting. Before leaving for Mechanic's pavilion I will have a rub down with olive oil. We will leave here and go straight to the pavilion. Corbett's seconds will be Tommy Ryan, Prof. Dare, Yank Kenny, Tom Corbett and Sam Berger.

NEW YORK, Aug. 13.—It will be many a day before the Champions will walk away with a game as easy as today's at Washington park, Brooklyn, when they defeated the Hanlonites by the score of 14 to 6.

No such weird exhibition on the part of the Brooklyns has been witnessed this season. And added to this was the miserable exhibition given by Schmidt in the box. His wildness in the third inning "broke up" the game. And for the first time this season the fans begged Captain Doyle to take him out. His exhibition was so rank that he was referred to indecently as "the slob on the slab." He was replaced by Doscher in the seventh inning.

Neither team played a star fielding game, both being credited with four errors, but Brooklyn's were the most costly, coming with Schmidt's gifts in the early part of the game. Two runs were chalked up by the visitors in their half of the second. Wagner walked, Ritchey now got first on Dahlen's fumble, after Bransfield was retired at first. Sebring and Phelps followed with singles, scoring Wagner and Ritchey.

Every man faced Schmidt in the third inning, scoring five runs on singles by Clarke and Leach, Phillippe and Ritchey's outs, Schmidt's bad throw and five passes issued by Schmidt.

Leach's triple and Bransfield's single tallied another in the fourth. Clarke took three bases on his hit in the sixth. Leach out, Flood to Doyle. On singles by Wagner, Bransfield and Ritchey, the former's base hit being the pilate. In the eighth, after Bransfield had struck out and Ritchey died at first, Sebring hit a home run.

Two more runs were added in the ninth. Beaumont received a gift, Clarke out at first. Leach and Wagner singled, scoring Beaumont. Bransfield dropped a safe one, scoring Leach.

The last run scored in the first inning on Wagner's muff of Sebring's grounder, Shrockard's double and Doyle's out at first.

In the second half Dahlen gave Leach an error one, but Dowling threw it over Bransfield's head in the former's position, scoring third and scoring on McCreery's out at first.

Doyle hit for two bases and stole third in the fourth inning. Dahlen walked, McCreery's hit, Leach's muff, Doyle scored on Flood's single. Ritter went out at first. Phillippe lost Schmidt's lick and Dahlen scored. Strang hit to left, scoring Flood.

Singles by McCreery, Flood and Ritter scored another for the Hanlonites in the eighth. Score:

BETTING ON THE FIGHT IS SMALL AND QUIET

New York Admirers of Corbett Still Have Their Bank Rolls Untied—Other Reports.

Despite the fact that it was the day before a championship battle, there was very little betting done in Pittsburgh yesterday in the outcome of the fight tonight at San Francisco. Jeffries still ruled favorite and wagers were laid that he would get the decision, others that the battle would not last ten rounds, and there were some who took a chance on Corbett turning up the unexpected. Not one big bet was announced.

CINCINNATI, Aug. 13.—(Special.)—Betting on the fight here today was light. No big bets have been received since Johnny Payne laid $500 even that Jeffries will win in 12 rounds or less. Joe Kemp opened a book today and got in about $200 on Corbett. He is laying 2 to 1 Corbett and 2 to 5 Jeffries.

NEW YORK, Aug. 13.—(Special.)—The local backers have not yet untied their bank rolls. It is estimated that the holding back for better odds than 2 to 1. This delay in the betting shows that the followers of Corbett believe the odds on Jeffries will increase as the time draws near for the big battle. It is announced he will be up among the sports and then enter the ring the big champion will be a 10 to 4 shot. George Considine and "Honest John" Kelly are staunch admirers of Corbett, and claim they will bet any part of $8,000 on Corbett's chances.

LOUISVILLE, KY., Aug. 13.—(Special.)—Interest in the fight grows warmer here as the time grows nearer for the big bouts. Bets are the ring, betting seems to liven up today, when Bookmaker Jones posted his odds on the boards at the Kinsdon. His prices were 1 to 2, Jeffries, and 8 to 5, Corbett. He announced he would lay any amount. Several small bets were made on Corbett and one or two $600 bets were made on Jeffries. Altogether Jones handled $2,500 in his book today. He expects the big money to come in tomorrow.

DETROIT, Aug. 13.—Detroit and Boston broke even today in a double-header, with no points of resemblance between the two games. The first was a pitchers' battle and Dineen had the better of it, especially in tieklish places. With the score tied in the ninth inning Collins batted in the winning runs. The fielding of Lush and Parent was very clever. In the second game Detroit made eight runs as a starter, Gibson being wild and giving way to Winters, whose control was no better. Kitson pitched carefully and was finely supported. Barrett and Collins made long hits. Score.

HORRIBLE DEATH BENEATH A PILOT

Woman's Body Rolled Under Wheels as Train Pulled Into Rankin.

LITTLE GIRL'S FATAL FROLIC

While Playing on Tracks Two-Year-Old Effie Gibbs Was Killed—Bean Hull Caused a Death—Other Coroner's Cases Reported.

Persons standing about the Baltimore & Ohio station at Rankin yesterday morning were horrified by seeing the body of a woman roll from the pilot of passenger train No. 21, west bound, and fall under the wheels. It was cut almost in two. At the morgue the body was identified as that of Ellen Donnelly, 55 years old, of No. 94 West Holland avenue, Braddock. Miss Donnelly left her home to go to a grocery on the opposite side of the tracks at Braddock. While crossing the tracks she stepped out of the way of a train and was struck by an engine, which hurled her body onto the pilot of the passenger engine. It was carried on the pilot to Rankin, unknown to the engineer and fireman.

Henrietta M., a 7-year-old daughter of Walter P. Gibbs, a gardener of Quaker valley, was instantly killed yesterday morning by Fort Wayne passenger train No. 40. The child was playing on the tracks when the train approached. She had plenty of time to leave the track after she saw the train, but was evidently paralyzed by fear and stood still.

C. W. Bellinger, aged 63 years, died suddenly, at the home of his daughter, Mrs. C. J. Lyding, at Brown's, shortly after 8 o'clock yesterday morning, from heart trouble. He was a native of Potter county, and was visiting his daughter.

Margaret Cook, aged 9, of Coraopolis, was crushed to death yesterday afternoon by a bean hull.

William Kemp, a laborer, of No. 152 Second avenue, died at the West Penn hospital yesterday afternoon at 4 o'clock of general exhaustion. He was taken ill in the street an hour before.

Mrs. Annie Handy, aged 68 years, of No. 41 Sarah street, Allegheny, died at the West Penn hospital at 8:30 o'clock yesterday morning of blood poisoning. She was taken to the hospital on Wednesday night by her son, John G. Handy. The hospital physicians were doubtful as to the exact cause of her death and they thought she might have been poisoned. The coroner ordered a post-mortem examination which showed death was due to blood poisoning.

PERSONALS

Two phenomenally large excursions to Atlantic City were sent out yesterday by the Pennsylvania railroad. Previous to train-leaving time last night the big waiting room of the Union station was crowded. Hardly anybody seemed to be alone. Husbands were accompanied by their wives and children, family parties being numerous. To put these people on the trains required quick work, and almost every uniformed employe about the station was pressed into service. Not only the regular gatemen were at their posts, but the conductors of the trains that were to go out, the porters on reserve, the brakemen on the trains and the station policemen were on duty on the platform and helped handle the crowd. The morning train was in five sections, which left five minutes apart. There were 50 passenger coaches, with two persons to a seat, after 30 people had filled it. Besides was a train additional to the two regular sections, and at 10 p. m. 37 Pullman cars were out in several sections. It is estimated by railroad officers that 15,000 persons went to Atlantic City on the morning and evening excursions.

That it is vacation time is well seen by the frequency with which the name of the wife appears on the hotel registers with the business men on the hotel registers. A hotel clerk called attention last night to the names of regular patrons of the house who came to Pittsburgh several times a year alone on business, but who on this occasion passed through the city with their wives. He said figures showed that women, on the way with their husbands to some eastern summer resort, express a wish to see the city to which their husbands make their business trips, so that perhaps they want to do a little shopping.

LYNCHERS MUST SURPRISE SATAN

SCORE GOVERNMENT'S LAXITY

One Speaker Announced That Uncle Sam Should Chastise Its Own Lawless Children Instead of Instructing European Nations About Massacres.

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

NEW HAVEN, CONN., Aug. 13.—Some remarks on lynching delivered by Mrs. M. Cravatt Simpson of Boston caused a sensation today at the opening session of the annual convention of the Northeastern Federation of Women's Clubs, an organization of colored women.

Mrs. Simpson, who is a member of the Women's Era club of Boston, declared there was no better time than the present for the convention to put itself on record regarding lynchings, and she called for the adoption of resolutions to be sent to President Roosevelt. The resolutions will be drawn up and presented later.

Mrs. Simpson said tho the club members should conceive a "feasible plan to suggest to the government whereby they could chastise their own lawless children, better know as lynchers, instead of contemplating sending messages across the water to their sister countries instructing them what they must and shall not do as regards butchering human souls, while they at home encourage outrages of the same kind.

"The barbarism of these so-called civilized lynchers," said the speaker, "is analogous to the atrocities of their forefathers, who had ships plying the African coast laden with thousands of human souls to sell into bondage. Their revolting heartlessness and the crimes of today might make the devil wonder and hell recognize its own likeness."

EAGLES ELECT OFFICERS.

Pittsburgh Delegates Opposed Indorsement of Monoghan for National President.

ERIE, PA., Aug. 13.—(Special.)—The Eagles' convention closed in Erie today. Reading was selected as the next place of meeting. The delegates from Pittsburgh combined with the others from the western part of the state to defeat the indorsement of the Hon. E. J. Monaghan of Philadelphia for the national presidency. Congressman Timothy D. Sullivan of New York was indorsed for president and Monaghan received the indorsement for grand secretary. A resolution was passed recommending the honors of the past worthy president to any secretary who has served three consecutive terms.

These officers were elected: Worthy state president, Thomas H. Grevey, Altoona; worthy state vice president, Dr. W. F. Brown, Franklin; worthy state treasurer, Charles Franklin, Erie; worthy state chaplain, James Gent, Oil City; inside guard, C. Rusher, Philadelphia; outside guard, E. L. Winkleman, McKeesport; trustees, John Boyle, Hazleton; S. E. Kaiser, Sharon; Robert C. Watson, Chester.

CLOTH STOOD THE TEST.

Chicago Police Put Casimir Zieglen's Bullet-Proof Vest to Severe Ordeal.

CHICAGO, Aug. 13.—(Special.)—Up in the squad room of the Desplaines street police station today a big policeman pulled his revolver, took aim at a man standing at the end of the room, and fired. The man did not drop dead, but turned a smiling face at his adversary, who then fired three more shots in rapid succession. Like the first they were all harmless. Half a dozen officers in the room looked on with deep interest and one of them said: "You would not catch me taking a chance like that, bullet proof vest or not. There might be a hole in it."

A bullet proof vest, invented by Casimir Zieglen stopped the leaden missives. The vest is guaranteed to stop a 44 Colt bullet at 5 feet. It must be thoroughly tested for the edification of the police who get into close quarters now and then where a bullet proof shield would be useful. The vest is made by a secret process and resembles a heavy quilted mill cloth.

MIKE NATION IS QUITE A BUSY IMITATOR OF THE FAMOUS CARRIE

"Mike Nation" was arrested in Braddock yesterday for the 22nd time. Mike is a Slav with an unpronounceable name, and came into prominence two years ago, when Carrie Nation was breaking up saloons in Kansas. He never heard of her, but he broke saloon windows in Braddock since then. He was liberated yesterday from the workhouse, after serving a six days' sentence. Soon after arriving in the town he got drunk and was put to break a large window in the saloon of Joseph Gimeskik when arrested. He was sent to the workhouse for 60 days.

SEA MONSTER BUT GIANT SUNDOODLE

Expert Identifies Strange Ocean Inhabitant Caught at Atlantic City.

CAPTIVE WEIGHS A HALF TON

Pittsburghers Inclined to Doubt Veracity of Member of United States Fish Commission—Not the Same Kind of Fish They Knew by That Name.

THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE BUREAU,
Young's Ocean Pier,
ATLANTIC CITY, Aug. 13.

It was not a sea serpent that caused all of the excitement at the inlet yesterday when the crew of the fishing boat Red Dragon brought in a strange creature of the deep. It was only a sunfish, but it weighed half a ton. The idea that the average Pennsylvanian, who has never fished in anything but a creek or a mountain stream, is that of a little fish about the size of a man's hand and not a very gamy fish at that. The tale of a sunfish weighing half a ton seems a little far-fetched, but it is a fact. A member of the United States fish commission went to the inlet today and as soon as he saw the monster he exclaimed:

"Why, there is nothing strange about that thing. It is nothing but a good for nothing sunfish."

Several Pittsburghers, who were there, and who have caught dozens of sunfish in the little lakes and farm yard streams, were a little dubious, but they did not say anything. Seeing the side glances, the fish experts volunteered some information about it. The fish, he said, often attains a length of 15 feet and a weight of 1,500 pounds. In some localities it is known as the elephant fish, because the huge fins have the appearance of elephant's ears. It is called the sunfish because of its habit of coming to the surface in the tropical waters, where it makes its home, and sunning itself. Specimens of the fish have been seen here before, but not often and never so large. This one will be kept on exhibition at the inlet as long as possible.

Entertaining the Red Men.

The great council of Red Men of the United States will be held here the week beginning September 14. Because of that fact the local tribes have arranged to have their annual pow-wow occur on the first day of the great council's session. There will be a parade with plenty of music, and this will be followed by a council fire or pow-wow on Young's pier, at which there will be addresses from many of the prominent officers of the order.

The local lodges have arranged a program of entertainments about as follows, although subject to change: Monday, parade and pow-wow on the pier; Tuesday, trolley rides and entertainment of the ladies, moonlight sail on the ocean; Wednesday, theater party and a smoker at the Grand Atlantic in the evening; Thursday, sights on the boardwalk, followed by a full-dress ball at the Grand Atlantic hotel at night; Friday, go-as-you-please.

Beach Crowd Frightened.

While strolling along the beach about 11 o'clock this morning Fred Paley of Steubenville, O., created no little excitement among the hundreds of bathers assembled at the foot of North Carolina avenue, by falling to the sand unconscious. Thinking that the man had been stricken with an attack of heart trouble or that he was dying, the usual crowd gathered around. An effort was made to revive Paley, but it proved of no avail and the ambulance was summoned. Upon being removed to the hospital it was discovered that Paley was merely suffering from an attack of epilepsy, to which he is subject.

Amateur Tar in Trouble.

Jake Welch, one of the amateur tars who came here with the Pennsylvania naval reserves on board the training ship Tidewater, failed to report in time and was left behind when the ship left on a further cruise up the coast. The lucky applied to Chief of Police Eldridge for transportation to his home. He was advised to ask the railroad officials.

This society is composed of descendants of James Stevenson, a Revolutionary hero. He was born in Ireland in 1760 and was brought to this country when a child. During the Revolutionary War Stevenson served as a sergeant in Colonel Evans' Pennsylvania regiment, was captured and held for a year in the notorious British prison ships. After the war he married Hannah Bull, daughter of Col. John Bull, of Chester county, a soldier of the Revolution. They came west and settled in Lawrence county, subsequently Mr. Stevenson moved to Poland, O., where he died in 1854.

Stevenson left many descendants, who are scattered about through Western Pennsylvania and Eastern Ohio. Nearly all regaled the reunion. Among them are John H. Stevenson, of Allegheny; Prof. William M. Stevenson, of Pittsburgh; Rev. Frank B. Stevenson, of New Castle; Rev. Robert Stevenson, of Woodwards; James A. Stevenson and E. A. MACHINISTS TURN DOWN COMPANY'S PROPOSITION

Westinghouse Strikers Won't Return to Work Until Scale Has Been Signed.

"Recognition of the union and the union's scale," is the substance of the answer of the striking machinists who met last night in Mendel's hall, Braddock, to take action on the proposition of the Westinghouse Machine Company that all men return to work and receive an increase in wages as individuals. Officials of the company denied yesterday that such a proposition had been made in the name of the Westinghouse interests, although the special meeting was called last night by the 600 strikers to act on the offer. The men decided not to return to work unless the union scale calling for an advance of 7.5 per cent is signed. The Westinghouse Machine Company is now advertising for machinists.

The strikers are receiving offers from out of town plants and 60 of the most skilled workmen of the Westinghouse Machine Company have accepted offers from an engine manufacturing concern in Milwaukee. An agent of the Milwaukee firm has been in Pittsburgh for the past few days.

On the day he disappeared he quarreled with his mother about the attention he was paying Miss Brown. It is said he is engaged to Miss Werth of Pittsburgh, who arrived at the lake on the day of the disappearance.

CERVERA RETIRES TO PRIVATE LIFE

Spain's Famous Admiral, Who Fought at Santiago, Ends Long Service.

HAD AN HONORABLE CAREER

His Defeat by American Fleet Did Not Injure Him in Eyes of His Countrymen—Was Court-Martialed, Acquitted and Promoted.

[Special Cable to The Gazette.]

MADRID, Aug. 13.—The resignation of Vice Admiral Cervera as chief of staff of the navy marks his definite retirement to private life, after a long and honorable service. Admiral Cervera is best known in America from the fact that he commanded the fleet which was destroyed at Santiago; that he was a prisoner in that country and that he was a kindly captor to Lieut. Hobson of Merrimac fame. But in Spain he has many other claims to the loyal love of the people.

Pasquale de Cervera, y Topete Conde de Jerez, Marquis de Santa Ana, was born in the province of Jerez where his father, Carlos de Cervera, was a man of large wealth, owning several estates, and was known as one of the richest wine merchants of Spain. Cervera's mother was Marie Topete, a daughter of Count Topete y Valle of the royal family of Spain.

He entered the naval academy at San Fernandino when 18 years old and graduated three years later, in 1854. In 1859 he experienced his first campaign in the expedition sent out by Spain against Morocco and for his services was promoted to first lieutenant. He was next attached to an expedition sent to Cochin China in 1862. Afterward he was attached to the Spanish legation in Washington and subsequently was made a captain in the Spanish navy and placed in command of a ship and sent to Peru, where war was in progress. He remained there only a short time when the ten years' war in Cuba broke out, and Spain found it necessary to recall her fleet from Peru in order to engage in a blockade of Cuban ports. During the progress of the 10 years' war Admiral Cervera was repalled from Cuba and made secretary of the navy in the Spanish cabinet.

When he again entered the service in the navy he was created an admiral and placed in command of the Pelayo, the first and only battleship in the Spanish navy. He construction was undertaken and carried out under his suggestions. He has been adjutant to the queen regent, and several years ago was at the head of the Spanish naval commission sent to London to confer with similar commissions from European powers regarding marine matters. He bears 15 medals bestowed upon him by the Spanish government and Spain counts him as her foremost naval man. After his return to Spain he was tried by court-martial for the loss of his squadron at Santiago, but was acquitted and promoted to be vice admiral. For a time he was on the retired list but a year ago, when Spain commenced the rebuilding of her navy he was recalled to the service and made chief of staff, the position he now resigns.

WOKE UP IN HAPPY MOOD AFTER FIVE DAYS' SLEEP

[Special Telegram to The Gazette.]

SCRANTON, PA., August 13.—Miss Ettie Peer of Meridian street, Scranton, went to sleep last Sunday night and defied all the efforts of alarm bells, doctors and electric batteries to awake her, until this morning.

When her friends found late on Monday that they could not arouse her they called in Dr. Winebrake, who found her breathing regular and pulse normal, and decided to make no effort to disturb her until Monday night. He then applied an electric battery, but only succeeded in restoring her to semi-consciousness, after which she lapsed into a heavy stupor. The electric treatment was continued at intervals with no better result than to cause the sleeper to open her eyes for a few second.

There was a brief period of consciousness last evening, and this morning Miss Peer woke up and greeted her relatives. She laughed when they told her she had been asleep for nearly a week, and thought they were joking. Miss Peer is about today as cheerful as ever and none the worse for her Rip Van Winkle experience.

MANILA ICE PLANT OFFERED FOR SALE

Government Wishes to Dispose of Profitable Business in the Philippines.

PITTSBURGHERS MADE A BID

The Pittsburgh Gazette Bureau,
Room 10, Postal Building,
WASHINGTON, D. C., Aug. 13.

Any one who wants an ice plant and has the price can buy a good one from Uncle Sam. For a year and a half the Philippine government has been manufacturing ice for the people of Manila. The plant cost about $1,000,000. The government, having installed the plant and kept it in operation until its success has been assured, does not desire to continue the business, as making ice is a private occupation in which the government has no interest. Therefore it has been decided to sell the establishment.

It was said at the war department today that a Pittsburgh syndicate, which has a monopoly of street railroad franchises of Manila, was anxious to buy the property, and has made several offers for it. The highest offer was $850,000, which Gov. Taft rejected, as the government has expended more than that amount on the machinery and ground. To bring matters to a focus the Philippine commission has adopted a resolution placing the price of the property at $1,000,000, the purchaser to pay one-third cash and the balance in two equal payments, with interest at 6 per cent per annum. War department officials say the plant has been a tremendous money maker.

PLANNING TO PREVENT CONGESTION OF FREIGHT

Pennsylvania and Baltimore & Ohio Officials Looking Over Pittsburgh's Facilities.

Dissatisfied with the car situation in the Pittsburgh district, Pennsylvania and Baltimore & Ohio executive officials have turned their attention towards the divisions centering here, and yesterday conferences were held in which a number of operating men took part. Charles E. Pugh, second vice president and W. P. Atterbury, general manager of the Pennsylvania, early yesterday morning began an inspection of the facilities of the Port Perry cut-off and the Pittsburgh division yards, while G. L. Potter, third vice president of the Baltimore & Ohio, made a complete inspection of the terminals of that road.

Last night Vice President Pugh was in conference with James McCrea, first vice president of the Pennsylvania lines and a director of the Pennsylvania railroad; Robert Pitcairn, resident assistant to President Cassatt; S. C. Long, superintendent of the Pittsburgh division, and subordinate officials. General Manager Atterbury, after his inspection met Mr. Potter, and those gentlemen were together until after 11 o'clock last evening.

Shippers are now half pleading and demanding better facilities. Vice President Pugh, who has just returned from his summer vacation, was anxious to jump into harness, and he is now trying to find a solution that will prevent a congestion of freight during the winter months. General Manager Atterbury has had close touch with the shippers since the retirement of his predecessor, and much good has resulted from friendly relations.

The Baltimore & Ohio and Pennsylvania officials are trying to devise ways to give immediate relief to this district. The situation is becoming critical. Arriving at East Pittsburgh yesterday the Pennsylvania party, accompanied by S. C. Long, an engineer representing W. H. Brown, chief engineer, and C. W. Creighton, general superintendent, inspected the Port Perry cut-off and returned to the Union station, where they were joined by way of the Pittsburgh, Virginia & Charleston railroad. At night the private cars were hauled to Shadyside, where they will remain until this morning, when the officials will move east via the West Penn.

STATION BROKEN INTO AND ROBBED OF $170

MORGANTOWN, PA., Aug. 13.—(Special.)—While freight trains were passing the Baltimore & Ohio station at noon today, the ticket office was broken into and robbed of $170. The robbery was committed while the ticket agent was injured. The robbers are supposed to have arrived on a freight train and waited for the agent to leave the building before attempting to break into the place. Entrance was gained by smashing in the station door. The thieves broke open the cash drawer and after securing the money escaped.

EDWARD DWYER IS A BANKRUPT

Former Millionaire Napoleon of the Wheat Pit Has Assets of $150.

HAS HAD A ROMANTIC CAREER

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

NEW YORK, Aug. 13.—Edward L. Dwyer today filed a petition in bankruptcy. The liabilities are fixed at $374,855, and assets $150.

The history of Dwyer reads like a romance. He was born in Connecticut 43 years ago and at the age of 25 went to Mexico, where he realized $1,000,000 through the development of land and the construction of a railroad. Then he went to Chicago and entered into wheat speculation, and for some time was known as the "Napoleon of the wheat pit." In his wheat speculation it is said he made several million dollars, but finally lost all.

In 1898 he met and married the Duchess de Castelluchia, a New York woman, who many years previously had been married to an Italian nobleman. The duchess possessed many acres of orange groves in Florida. She was 73 years of age and Dwyer 33. Not long after the marriage Mrs. Dwyer died, leaving an estate of over $3,000,000. She bequeathed $10 of this amount to Dwyer. The will was fought for six years, but finally was admitted to probate by the surrogate of New York city.

After the death of his aged wife Dwyer went all over the west organizing mining and land companies, many of which are said to have returned vast sums of money to the investors, of which he says he has received little or nothing.

In 1900 Dwyer enlisted in the marine corps in the Brooklyn navy yard, for a term of three years and was sent to Manila, where he was known as "The millionaire marine." After one year's service, however, on the application of friends, he received an honorable discharge.

MORE CARS FOR SUBURBS.

Contract Awarded for New Line to Connect Four Boroughs.

Work will be commenced in a few days on the new car line to run from Ingram to Sheraden, thus connecting the boroughs of Carnegie, Crafton, Ingram and Sheraden. Formerly the residents of the first three boroughs had to come in to the West End and go from there through Elliott to get to Sheraden. The contract has been awarded to S. Gamble and it is expected to have the line in operation soon.

A new car line is also projected to run from Chestnut street, Carnegie, through Rosslyn and Idlewood, on which heavier cars will be used.

AVALON HOUSE BURNS WHILE FIREMEN MARCH

While members of the Avalon volunteer fire department marched in the parade at Latrobe yesterday afternoon, fire broke out in Avalon and almost destroyed the home of Mrs. M. E. Lynn in Eugene avenue. With the assistance of neighbors Firemen Charles Armstrong and Samuel Gasquin, who remained home, succeeded in putting out the fire, after it had done about $500 damage.

The residence of C. M. Davis of Leetsdale was destroyed by fire shortly after 7 o'clock yesterday morning. As there is not even a volunteer fire department in the town, the building burned to the ground.

OLD SOLDIER CONTRIBUTES TO CONSCIENCE FUND

WASHINGTON, Aug. 13.—The secretary of the treasury today received a check for $100 from Philadelphia with the following explanation: "Enclosed please find $100, being the amount of money pilfered from me on the 11th day of December, 1838, by the United States government as additional bounty to a soldier. He considers that he was not entitled to this money by reason of an act of July 5th, 1838, which debarred all men from participating in this bounty who had reenlisted, which he had done. He wishes to make restitution of this amount."

FLED TWICE FROM ALTAR, BUT MARRIED AT LAST

WILKESBARRE, PA., Aug. 13.—(Special.)—After twice fleeing from the altar, Miss Dora Mamiojeday was this morning married to Jacob Winter of Nanticoke. About 10 days ago she disappeared one hour before the time set for the ceremony and the next day when she was found by her mother she refused to marry. This morning however, the preparations which had been under way for a couple of days were brought to a successful conclusion and she is now a bride. She is 17 and the husband 22.

JULIA ROMAINE IS MADE DEFENDANT IN DIVORCE SUIT

CHICAGO, Aug. 13.—(Special.)—While Julia Romaine, the actress, who jumped from a cab one night last week and injured herself, is lying ill at the Wellington hotel, her husband is suing for divorce. Suit was filed today by Romaine as known as Mrs. Julia R. Marks, wife of Charles Marks, business manager of the "Tenderfoot" company. In a bill for divorce filed in the superior court the actress is charged with being too fond of another actor in the same company.

NEW HAVEN, CONN., Aug. 13.—The cutter yacht Wenonah, owned by Samuel M. Roosevelt, of New York, a cousin of the president, arrived here today in a badly damaged condition, having been in collision during last night with the fishing steamer Falcon, off Faulkner's island. The Wenonah's bow was crushed in above the water line, and her rigging carried away. The boat also took fire, but the crew quickly extinguished the flames.

Rich Men May Work in Ditch.

SCHWAB TO MANAGE BETHLEHEM PLANT

Will Not Organize Company to Compete With Steel Corporation.

HE HOLDS MUCH STEEL STOCK

Would Not Jeopardize Princely Income from Dividends—Policy of Corporation on Common Dividends Outlined by an Official.

The Pittsburgh Gazette Bureau,
Herald Building, Herald Square,
NEW YORK, Aug. 13.

The Wall Street Journal says today: The statement that Charles M. Schwab would join with independent steel interests in forming a combination to oppose the United States Steel Corporation is specifically denied by a director of the corporation. This authority states that while Mr. Schwab is under no written pledge not to engage in iron and steel making in competition with the steel corporation, it was expressly stated in the conference held prior to the acceptance of his resignation that he would not do so.

It is his intention to operate the Bethlehem steel plants, if the re-organization plans for the United States Shipbuilding Company are carried through, but only in connection with shipbuilding and government contracts for armor plate for the American navy. At ruling prices in the stock market, Mr. Schwab's holdings of steel stock, the common and preferred, aggregate $5,370,000 in value as compared with a par value of $18,500,000. On his steel stock Mr. Schwab will draw yearly a total in dividends of $660,000, or $300,000 on his preferred and $340,000 on his common stock. It is unlikely that he would seek to reduce this princely income by engaging in a competition for trade with the steel corporation, of which he is still a director.

The policy of the United States Steel Corporation regarding the future of dividends on the common stock has been definitely outlined to us in the following authoritative statement:

"The company will act upon the question of dividends when each dividend period arrives, as it seems to be justified by conditions as they then exist. If the earnings and business of the company justify the payment of dividends, they will be declared. If, however, there should be such changes in the trade situation as to diminish the earning powers of the company, the directors may consider it to be best policy to pass the dividend, until there is a change for better conditions. There will be no declaration of unearned dividends in any case. But, on the other hand, there will be no withholding from the stockholders of profits which may be legitimately due them, after the interests of the company have been fully safeguarded. The directors are a body of men who may be trusted to act conservatively and wisely in the matter of dividends on the common stock."

FRANK A. PARKER.

TORE OFF THIEF'S POCKET AND FOUND HIS WATCH

Fred. Polowski Has an Exciting Experience, but Is Not a Loser by It.

Fred Polowski, employed at the Frankstown avenue car barns, has his watch and a thief's pocket. He was standing in a Penn avenue car last night and three men, who later proved to be pickpockets were standing near him. At Fifteenth street one of the men passed Polowski and jostled him. The third man passed him and as he did so, threw his arms about Polowski's neck and said, "You're a friend of mine, aren't you?"

With this he passed on and as he was near the rear of the car Polowski missed his watch. Suspecting the man of the robbery he cried to the man to stop, at the same time running after him. The man made a jump and got off the car, just as his victim reached the platform. Polowski made a grab for the man and succeeded in catching him by a coat pocket. The car was in motion and Polowski held to the railing while the pickpocket pulled the car window. The result of the tug was that the man's entire pocket was pulled out of his coat, the victim hoding on to it.

When Polowski examined the pocket he was more than surprised to find his watch in it. He went to detective headquarters and reported the case, turning the pocket over to the detectives for a clue.

BOY CASTAWAY SAVED.

Rescuers Found Him Adrift in Open Boat Off Georgia Coast.

NEW YORK, Aug. 13.—(Special.)—Jose Vergas, a 12-year-old Cuban lad, lies in St. Vincent's hospital suffering from burns inflicted by long exposure to a blazing sun and weakness, the result of five days' drifting in an open boat without food or water.

He was picked up by the Eldorado, 25 miles off the coast of Georgia. Jose was found sitting in the bottom of the boat. Part of one leg had been chewed off his trousers and the boy was biting at the ragged edge. On board the Eldorado the boy was delirious until yesterday. He said that with two other boys he was fishing outside Havana when the boat broke adrift and they were unable to row it ashore. Two of the lads swam for shore but he was unable to swim so far and remained in the boat without food or water. Capt. Prescott thinks the boat could not have drifted 550 miles from Havana to the point where it was sighted in less than six days.

BOULEVARD FUND WILL BE EXHAUSTED TODAY

Cost Has Exceeded Estimates by About $1,000,000 and Litigation Follows.

All the money remaining in the boulevard bond fund, voted for seven years ago, will be paid out today. It amounts to $633,036 66 and will be divided among the Peoples National, the Farmers Deposit National, the German Savings banks, and the Mercantile Trust Company, to which institutions the contractors, Werner & Sheehan & Company, assigned their claim to that extent long ago. The firm, however, has a claim of about $300,000 for extra work done on the contract, for which a suit to recover was entered a long time ago, but which has never yet come to trial.

Of all the firm's claims for extra work, the only one allowed was a little one of $7,200, granted by George S. Wilson when he was director of the department of public works.

The total cost of the Grant boulevard alone is now figured at $896,428 92, and is steadily growing. That amount is the actual cost of the work and the interest that is added to date for non-payment.

The claim for extra work, if allowed, must be added to it, which will make the total cost about $1,200,000. The Beechwood boulevard was to have been paid for out of the bond issue as well, and as that thoroughfare has cost about $400,000, the quandary of making a quart out of a pint confronts the administration. The bond fund for boulevards was $830,000, about one-third the total of the present cost and claims.

Controller Lardin is not worrying over the condition of that item, however, as it has been known for a long time that the cost of the boulevards would exceed the estimates by about $1,000,000. He means to issue warrants today for the balance remaining in the fund, $633,036 66.

Of all the firm's claims for extra work, the only one allowed was a little one of $7,200, granted by George S. Wilson when he was director of the department of public works.

The total cost of the Grant boulevard alone is now figured at $896,428 92, and is steadily growing. That amount is the actual cost of the work and the interest that is added to date for non-payment.

The claim for extra work, if allowed, must be added to it, which will make the total cost about $1,200,000. The Beechwood boulevard was to have been paid for out of the bond issue as well, and as that thoroughfare has cost about $400,000, the quandary of making a quart out of a pint confronts the administration. The bond fund for boulevards was $830,000, about one-third the total of the present cost and claims.

Controller Lardin is not worrying over the condition of that item, however, as it has been known for a long time that the cost of the boulevards would exceed the estimates by about $1,000,000. He means to issue warrants today for the balance remaining in the fund, $633,036 66.

"BEAR" STAMPEDE IN WALL STREET

Eastern Stock Market Was Buoyant During Most of the Day--Better Feeling on the Pittsburgh Board.

By JOHN C. BAGLIN, Financial Editor.

Comparing yesterday's highest prices with the lowest touced last Monday, the extent of the recovery in the market so far this week is seen in the following:

	Adv.		Adv.

Gains like the foregoing strengthened many weak margins, and as a consequence there was a decided improvement in the sentiment of the street. The market was buoyant almost from start to finish, being aided by the higher quotations from London and by foreign purchases on balance estimated at from 30,000 to 50,000 shares. Private cables reported the London "curb" active and strong, with prices at the top, foreigners being purchases of the United States Steel issues and the Readings. The dealings on the New York board embraced nearly everything on the list, and the transactions were well distributed throughout the session, the total aggregating 1,121,000 shares.

A bear stampede occurred during the early part of the day, and the transactions were on an enormous scale, reaching nearly 700,000 shares for the first two hours. Reading was one of the most prominent features, opening higher at 51¾ and advancing to 53¼. There was a quick reaction of about 2 points, followed by a recovery to the highest of the day. St. Paul also opened higher at 139¼ and advanced to 142¾. The buying of these two stocks was largely by shorts, who found offerings quite limited. Rock Island was favorably influenced by the announcement of the Seaboard Air Line deal. The common opened higher at 24½, and rose to 25⅞, while the preferred rose 2 per cent to 64. Southern Railway common and preferred shared in the improvement, the theory being advanced that its interests in the Southern field would be safeguarded by the deal referred to. Missouri Pacific advanced 2½ per cent to 94½. Delaware & Hudson was relatively as strong as Reading and advanced to 164, carrying with it the other coalers. The rise in Pennsylvania, Baltimore & Ohio, Union Pacific and Atchison was not so pronounced, but all these sympathized with the upward movement.

In the early part of the afternoon the rise was checked by profit taking, and possibly by the putting out of fresh short lines by traders who felt that the movement had been too rapid; but between 1 and 2 o'clock there was renewed strength, which in some instances carried prices to the highest level of the morning. In the final hour the entire railroad list reacted sharply, but closed at net gains for the day.

The industrials were less active than the railroad list, but there were some noteworthy gains in specialties which had suffered the heaviest losses early in the week. Consolidated Gas was the leader, advancing rapidly to 179 a recovery of nearly 10 per cent over the lowest of the day before, and a recovery of 15 per cent from the lowest of last Monday. General Electric advanced 4 points to 160, and Amalgamated Copper 2¾ points to 44⅜. United States Steel common opened fractionally higher at 23¼, and strengthened to 23½. The preferred stock opened higher at 71¼, and advanced to 71⅝. London was said to be buying these stocks on a report that the company was buying the common stock to retire the same, or, at least, to save the payment of the forthcoming dividend, which has already been declared. In the final dealings the industrials also reacted from the best, but closed with part of the gains retained.

The actual news of the day was not important, but there was a radical change in sentiment. The street was full of rumors, but they were of an entirely different tenor from those which have been such a disturbing factor. The output yesterday was intended to disturb the confidence of the bears, and the object was apparently accomplished. The more persistent reports related to the control of Reading. One of these was that control would be divided in the proportion of a third interest each in Gould, Pennsylvania and New York Central. Another report was that the Gould lines would go into New York over the Erie, and another that the Pennsylvania-Rockefeller differences had been settled amicably. There was no confirmation of any of these reports, but there was a scarcity of Reading stock, and despite the fact that two prominent houses together sold 15,000 shares in the afternoon, the market took it all. The Wabash issues were not so buoyant as some of the other railway stocks, possibly because the question ever recurs as to the manner in which the extensive improvements on the system are to be financed.

There was an improvement in the tone of the local stock market, but a falling off in business. The latter is still restricted by the firmness of money. In the trust company group there was a sharp recovery in the two stocks which were weakest the day before. Real Estate Trust rallying 7 per cent to 282, and Commonwealth Trust 5 per cent to 215. A small lot of Home Trust changed hands at 123¼, a decline of 5¾ per cent from the last previous sale, and Industrial National Bank was 2 per cent lower at 130.

Westinghouse Electric was the strongest and Airbrake the weakest of the industrial list. The former advanced to 83¾, and closed at 83, a net gain of a dollar. Airbrake sold off to 141, the lowest price for years, and recovered to 145, a net decline for the day of a dollar a share. Crucible Steel common recovered to 11 and the preferred to 72, the latter an advance of 1 per cent. United States Steel common rallied to 23½, and the preferred to 72. Pressed Steel Car sold at 39¼, a decline of 1¾ from the last previous sale on the local board several weeks ago. Pittsburgh Coal common was dull but firm, at 27, and the preferred was a fraction higher at 83½. River Coal common remained unchanged at 10¼, but the preferred recovered to 37½. Natural Gas stocks were dull, but firmer. The market closed steady to firm.

NORTH SIDE FLATS TO COST $100,000

Six Story Apartment House Planned for Davis and Geyer Avenues.

WATER WORKS AT MORTON

Allegheny Site for Barrel Factory is Leased for 11 Years—Plans for Trust Company Building in Outer Penn Avenue—House Sales Over the City.

Plans have been prepared by Architect T. H. Scott for what will likely be the finest apartment house in Allegheny. It will belong to a prominent local brewer, who bought the site, 142x102 feet at the northwest corner of Davis and Geyer avenues, Eleventh ward, some two years ago. The building will be a six-story brick structure, trimmed with terra cotta and will be divided into apartments of six rooms each. The flats will be handsomely finished and provided with private baths and the building will have its own steam heat, light plant and refrigerator plant. The apartments will rent for from $50 to $70 a month. No finer locality for a high-class apartment house could be found on the North Side, as the site is at the entrance to Riverview park. On the opposite corner is the $100,000 property of Ex-Mayor Charles Geyer, and near by are the handsome homes of John Phillips, the oil cloth manufacturer, and S. C. Schwerd, the plating mill owner. Work is now in progress on the bridge from Geyer avenue to Marshall avenue, which will be a part of the new street car loop connecting with the new Perrysville avenue district. The line will run up Superior street and out Shady, Geyer and Benton avenues to Perrysville avenue, giving greatly improved traction facilities to the residents of the locality.

More Suburban Water Works.

The Keystone Realty Company will begin work next week on drilling an artesian well on its Morton allotment on the second avenue street car line near McKeesport. A big stand pipe will also be erected in September and a complete system of water mains laid, so that the company can pipe water to any house in the plan. This is the second water works venture started this summer on suburban allotments, the Mt. Lebanon Land & Trust Company having its wells and stand pipe nearly completed.

In the Upston plan, also near McKeesport, the Keystone Realty Company is having 100 houses built by Harry F. T. Watson. The dwellings will contain six rooms each and will cost respectively about $2200,000. The streets on fully one-half of the plan have been macadamized and the work of laying sidewalks and sewers is nearly finished.

A small bonus of lots is soon to be put on the market by the Real Estate Savings & Trust Company in the Tenth ward, Allegheny. The owner of the property is C. D. Boggs, who secured about one acre from H. F. Bowns. It is located in the rear of Irwin avenue, near Marshall avenue, and will be plotted into lots 20x150 feet each.

Barrel Factory for Allegheny.

Through the Commonwealth Real Estate & Trust Company George F. McKeever has secured a lease of 11 years on the Hogg property at the northwest corner of Paris alley and Union avenue, Allegheny, as a site for a barrel factory. The lot measures 60x100 feet and is improved with old frame buildings which, it is said, will be torn down at once to give place to the large factory which is to cost $10,000. Several months ago Mr. McKeever's present factory at No. 308 Bingham street, South Side, was sold to the Wabash railroad, which necessitated the move.

Architects Vrydaugh & Wolfe have been commissioned to prepare plans for the building of the Franklin Savings & Trust Company at the southwest corner of Penn avenue and Twenty-ninth street. The deal for the site, a lot 24x80x irr. feet, was closed yesterday, the property having been secured from Robert H. Mackey for $14,500. The building will be a two-story pressed brick and terra cotta structure, and will be started about September 1.

Plans are being drawn and architects for the superstructure of the buildings of the Home of the Good Shepherd in Lincoln avenue, East End. They will be four-story pressed brick structures and will cost, along the foundation, which are nearly completed, about $100,000.

North Side Transactions.

Allegheny: W. F. Wettersheusen sold for the Pittsburgh Brewing Company to a North Side business man, 1.5 acres of ground at the northeast corner of East and Main streets, Fourteenth ward, Allegheny, for $6,800. The property adjoins the buyer's home. The same buyer bought the 50 feet on Main street, next to A. J. Kensig, a 16 years' leasehold on the two-story brick building at the southwest corner of Second street and Forest alley. Third ward. $2,400.

Allegheny: Through Pearson & Fries, a colored Baptist church has bought from Johnston & McFarland an improved property, 40x100 feet, on the south side of Jackson street, near Irwin avenue, Allegheny, for $4,500.

Wilmot street: John J. Hawkins sold to Gustav Brandt an improved lot, 54x105 feet, on the south side of Atlantic avenue, Twentieth ward, for $6,400.

One Half Interest Brings $10,000.

South Side: Jacob G. Remark sold to Margaret Boily a one-half interest in his improved property, 24x120 feet, on the south side of Carson street, Twenty-fifth ward, for $10,000.

Bellefonte street: D. P. Small sold to Samuel D. Daniels an improved lot 26x120 feet on the east side of Bellefonte street, for $4,600.

Wylie avenue: The Aronson Realty Company sold for W. S. Shubert to Joseph Kowalski, for the erection of a 2½-horsepower electric plant which will cost complete about $20,000.

There is a great scarcity of miners in the southern section of Idaho. Thunder Mountain operators find it difficult to get men to fill their crews at the camp. All men willing to work for wages are said to be employed, and the mine managers are constantly sending home here for more, with very indifferent success.

State Mine Inspector Bell of Idaho makes an interesting statement concerning the Minnie Moore mine at Bellevue, a silver-lead property that was famous in the early days of that district. The company abandoned the mine after it had made a large production, the vein being lost. Mr. Bell says the new management has exposed a million and a half in the mine, and the work shows the old company had undercut the ore body without knowing where it was.

The final payment has been made on the General Thomas group of mines out of Tonopah, Nev., by the Tonopah-Belmont Mining company, this swelling to the total required to land the group to nearly $750,000. Salt Lake interests were the purchasers.

PROPHET POE'S PREDICTION.

He Says Navigation Will Resume on or About October 10.

"Navigation will resume out of Pittsburgh on or about October 10, 1903." This was the prediction made yesterday by Theodore C. Poe, the river prophet of the Cincinnati packet line. This prediction, coming from anyone else would carry little weight, but Capt. Poe has been so successful in predicting months in advance the stage of water, that rivermen give his words considerable thought and believe that he is close to being right. Poe predicted several months in advance the coal stage which reached Pittsburgh the latter part of last June, October 10 is about one month earlier than usual for the opening of navigation. Last year navigation closed on August 20 and opened late in November. There was four feet of water and rising, at Davis Island dam on November 26. The first steamer to leave Pittsburgh after resuming navigation last year was the Keystone State, which left for Cincinnati on December 1. But last year the resumption was late, and it is predicted that the dry season will be shorter this year.

Today marks the closing of navigation in the upper Ohio river. The water was 3.2 feet at Davis Island dam last evening, and falling. The little Cricket, which draws only 1.5 feet of water, was aground, but it is probably for the last time. The Kanawha for Charleston was the last of the big packets to leave. She left last Tuesday. The Keystone State, the lightest draught Cincinnati packet, left Pittsburgh last Monday, and was put on the ways at Cincinnati yesterday to undergo repairs.

The Greenwood from Charleston and the Lorena from Zanesville, were unable to reach the harbor, and will go into some other line or tie up. The City of Cincinnati, City of Louisville, Virginia, Queen City and Keystone State are all on the Queen City marine ways at Cincinnati. Every year in the dry season these packets get their annual house cleaning and are fitted up for the busy season. The other packets will be put on the ways at different cities down the river.

Rose Hite, Hoag, Brownsville.

The stage of water at Davis Island dam at 9 o'clock last night was 3.2 feet and the river was falling.

The Columbia was several hours late in arriving yesterday from Morgantown on account of a heavy fog in the morning.

A movement has been started among rivermen to erect a steel flag pole on the wharf and have an American flag and the city colors flying from it daily. Harbor No. 25 will meet tomorrow morning and take action.

Spend Sunday in the Mountains at Cumberland—$2 Round Trip, August 16.

Special train leaves Baltimore & Ohio station, corner Smithfield and Water streets, Pittsburgh, 7 a. m.; returning, leaves Cumberland 6 p. m., same date.

TOMATO SCARCITY SENDS PRICES HIGHER

Apple Receipts Liberal and Quotations Lower—Millers Again Advance Flour.

Interest in the produce market gathers round tomatoes, which are so scarce as to occasion thought to those who are looking for fancy stock. Comparatively few tomatoes are coming in now, and but a small portion of these can be called ripe. The weather has been of a sort to quickly ripen the fruit, if exposed to the sun sufficiently to ripen it. What is needed is some warmer weather to check the growth of the vines, and give the fruit a chance to ripen. So limited are the receipts that prices are considerably higher. Onions are beginning to come forward more freely, and the receipts are from California, while Mexico is rapidly going out of the list. They are quite plentiful, and the crops throughout the country all promise well, so that it is regarded as likely to be a good apple year. Cantaloupes are not quite so abundant as they were a week ago, but there is still a fair quantity, and prices are unchanged. Consignments are now coming from California, while Mexico is rapidly going out of the list. They are quite plentiful, and the crops throughout the country all promise well, so that it is regarded as likely to be a good apple year. Cantaloupes are not quite so abundant as they were a week ago, but there is still a fair quantity, and prices are unchanged. Consignments are now coming in large quantities. Peaches are quite plentiful, and they are in limited supply, a few coming now from New York state, which are sold in baskets at 65 cents. Blackberries are still among the arrivals, but they are showing signs of reaching the end of their season. Huckleberries are plentiful, and prices do not fluctuate. Seedless grapes are plentiful and selling at 50 cents per 4-pound box. Damson plums are in good supply, and command $1.00 per basket.

There were no changes made in the hay and grain market yesterday, quotations all remaining firm as listed. Only moderate receipts came forward, and offerings were consequently limited.

Millers made another advance in the price of spring patent flour, which brings quotations up close to the $5 mark. Cash wheat is very scarce, and the market is strong. Coffee is quiet, but primal markets are a little brighter than they were a week ago. It is thought the Brazil crop will not be as heavy as at first estimated, although there will be a fair average yield. Planters are now hurrying the coffee to seaboard, and the receipts for ports for the present month and September will likely be greater than for the balance of the year. It is reported that all the old coffee from the new crop has been cleaned up, and that whatever comes to seaports now will be of the present crop only. Should it look before this is all down as though there would be anything to interfere with the prospects for the next crop some of it will be held back for higher prices. Sugar is unchanged in the local market, although it is easier in primal markets. Refiners have found the trade for this month disappointing, and Pittsburgh jobbers have not been handling the usual amount.

Butter, cheese and eggs are all unchanged. Poultry is selling fairly well, but is easier than it was.

DRILLS ARE FINDING OIL IN SMALL QUANTITIES

In the Fulcom district, Wetzel county, W. Va., the South Penn Oil Company has completed its test on the T. C. Hays farm and the well filled up 1,500 feet with fluid. In the same district the South Penn Oil Company has drilled its test on the Hilgins-Peterson farm 25 feet into the sand and has 50 barrels of oil. The same company has drilled its test on the G. W. Shoninger farm and has the same showing. In the same district No. 2 on the H. G. Davis farm has been drilled through the sand and will make a 15 or 20-barrel producer.

In the Salem district, Harrison county, the South Penn Company has drilled its test on the G. T. Wurzin farm through the Gordon Stray and has a show for 20 barrels. In the same district No. 2 on the H. G. Davis farm has been completed and will make a 10-barrel pumper in the Gordon.

In the district of Hughes river, Ritchie county, the Cairo Oil Company No. 2 has completed its test on the Thomas E. Davis farm and has a 15-barrel pumper in the salt sand.

South & Pettigrew's test on the W. H. Bickel farm will be put to pumping from the Berea grit. The well has made several flows, the last consisting of 25 barrels to the Petroleum district pumper. Central has completed its test on the West Virginia tract and will have a 10-barrel pumper in the Berea grit. The well was shot in the Berea and has filled up 600 feet with fluid.

The Ohio & Pittsburgh Gas & Oil Company's test on the B. R. Ray buck farm has been shot in the gelt sand and is showing for a 10-barrel pumper. This is an important strike and opens up some new territory.

On Ross run, Pleasants county, Lawrence Griffith & Co. have drilled their test on the Jesse Seldon farm and will increase its production to 150 barrels a day.

Three miles southeast of Jackson Ridge, on the Ohio side, in Monroe county, Stuart & Young have struck a 30-barrel gusher on the Isabelle Hawkins farm. The well was drilled into the Keener sand yesterday and is showing for a 10-barrel pumper. Last month a test well was completed on the F. E. Eddy farm 1,000 feet east of the new strike, and abandoned. It secured no oil or gas.

In the new development on Ross run, Washington county, some new producers are coming in and the development is now progressing. J. M. Guffey has drilled in his test on the Mc Farnsworth farm and has a show for a 25-barrel producer to the Big Injun sand. The Johnston Oil Company has completed tests on the Williams Lee and J. WHEAT'S LEADERSHIP BRACED GRAIN MARKETS

Grains Closed Higher in Chicago Yesterday—Provisions Were Irregular.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

CHICAGO, Aug. 13.—There was a big trade in wheat throughout the entire session and the firm feeling which prevailed from the first to the finish decidedly strong toward the close, the final figures being at about the best prices of the day. The opening was firm on strong European cables and a continued big export trade. During the session liquidation on all advances was in order, although the sentiment in general was bullish, and this selling had a tendency to check the upward trend of prices. After selling off 1c, September began to advance gradually, and toward the latter part of the session the market turned extremely strong on good export reports in the near-by markets. The

RIOTS DISCUSSED AT CHAUTAUQUA

An Exponent and an Opponent of Labor Unions Make Addresses.

EACH SIDE BLAMES T'OTHER

Thomas I. Kidd Pleads Cause of Organized Labor and D. M. Parry of Indianapolis Condemns It in Bitter Language.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

CHAUTAUQUA, N. Y., Aug. 13.—Thomas J. Kidd, vice president of the American Federation of Labor and secretary of the Wood Workers' union, made an address before the assembly today on "Labor Unions and Mobs," from the workingman's point of view. He said in part:

"I wish to ask if the responsibility for rioting is all on one side. Most riots never take place until the strike breaker has been brought in by the autocratic employer to take the place of the men contending for their rights. Who hires the Pinkertons? Who hires the coal and iron police?

"The opponents of unionism are of two classes. First, those financially interested in keeping their workingmen divided. Second, those who are honest, but uninformed. It is with the latter that we must deal. All the good accomplished by unions is apparent only to the close student. When a riot occurs many men forget all the tremendous good done and think only of the temporary bad. We should not confound the principle with the occasional mistakes of its exponents. The blackest crimes of the centuries have been committed in the name of Christianity, yet we do not condemn Christianity on that account. We have been accused of trying to run the employer's business. We do not do that. We are trying to give him freedom in the conduct of his affairs and only ask for the same privilege for ourselves.

"We are not free men unless we have a right to say something about the conditions under which we toil. Our unions are composed of untrained and often uneducated workmen; yet some expect perfection at the bottom when it does not exist at the top. Let those who are without sin cast the first stone."

D. M. Parry, president of the National Association of Manufacturers, made an address on "The Mob Spirit in America." He said in part:

"In this country in the last year there have been many mobs of different kinds, but to my mind the most dangerous of these is the mob of organized labor. Organized labor, as it is conducted today, stands convicted by its own leaders as a lawless organization.

"In that it seeks by physical force to override individual rights and is continually raiding against the laws and denouncing courts and public officials for enforcing these laws, it fulfills all the requirements of the definition of mobocracy. Unlike the lynching bees and the vigilance committees, it is what might be termed a standing mob, under fair discipline by its officers, and ready upon occasion to commit the overt acts of outrage and destruction which are the outward manifestation of the mob spirit. It declares in effect that its will is superior to customs, traditions, government regulations and even the Constitution of the country. It asserts that the individual has no inherent rights that cannot be taken from him, and that, therefore, it has the right to say that no man shall work and that no industry shall run without its consent.

INDIANS ARE RESTLESS.

400 Shawnees and Kickapoos in Oklahoma Preparing to Move to Old Mexico.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 13.—The commissioner of Indian affairs today received a telegram from Superintendent Thackeray of the Shawnee Indian agency in Oklahoma, that a number of Kickapoos and Shawnees of the Big Jim band are preparing to remove to Mexico. The agent asks for instructions. He suggests that to hold them probably would require the assistance of troops. The proposed change of base on the part of the Indians, he says, is instigated by designing white men.

Commissioner Jones expressed the opinion that nothing could be done to prevent the move, but said the Indians would not be permitted to take any property not owned by them by the government. This, Mr. Thackeray thinks, they will not attempt to do. It is supposed from his reference to scheming whites that there is an effort on the part of some to induce the removal of the Indians with the hope of securing their lands in Oklahoma.

Capital News in Paragraphs.

Col. Robert L. Mead of the marine corps will be retired October 3 in his present grade because of a disrespectful letter which he sought to address to the navy department.

During July almost 2,000 new rural free delivery routes have been established. The appropriation for the service is $12,000,000, or a little less than $9,000,000 more than necessary to maintain the existing service. This is only sufficient to justify the establishment of about 6,000 new routes. There are now on file petitions for about 11,000.

ZEKELI WILL TEMPT FATE IN HIS MONSTER BALLOON

German Aeronaut Proposes to Start on Aerial Journey Which Will End Only When His Airship Will No Longer Float.

[SPECIAL CABLE TO THE GAZETTE.]

BERLIN, Aug. 13.—Though this city cannot boast of a Santos Dumont, the people are nevertheless very much interested in aerial navigation, and are anxiously looking forward to the approaching trial of Zekeli's new balloon, which will take place in the near future, and for which all preparations have been made, though the day has not been actually decided upon.

Zekeli, who constructed the balloon in which the Swedish engineer, Andree, started on his fatal expedition in search of the north pole, will try to find out how long it is possible to keep a balloon floating. Leaving Berlin he will go in any direction as far as his balloon will carry him, even should he be carried over the Mediterranean, Baltic or Black sea. The lower part of his aerial vessel is therefore constructed like a boat, containing four aluminum cylinders capable of keeping afloat a dead weight of 25,000 pounds, considerable more than the total weight of the balloon and its contents.

The test will approximately prove how long the Andree balloon may have floated before it went down, though Zekeli's balloon will have a capacity of 11,000 metres, almost twice as big as Andree's, and will not be exposed to the sleet and ice which will gather on a balloon in the Arctic regions, and which probably more than anything prevented the Swedish explorer from reaching the pole.

The Zekeli balloon is three times the size of the one in which Count Delavaux tried to cross the Mediterranean, and nine times as large as any German military balloon, and has a carrying capacity of 28,500 pounds, when filled with hydrogen.

KAISER SUPPRESSES TOLSTOI'S PEACE PLEA

Inoffensive Pamphlet Is Now Worth Its Weight in Gold in German Capital.

[SPECIAL CABLE TO THE GAZETTE.]

BERLIN, Aug. 13.—The confiscation of the German edition of Tolstoy's latest book, "Thou Shalt Not Kill," has revived interest in this product of the famous writer's pen. The few hundred copies which had been sold previous to July 4, when the sale of the book was forbidden, are worth more than their weight in gold.

The book was confiscated because the court at Leipsic judged it to contain an insult to the kaiser, but the average reader may read the book twice and still not be able to find anything offensive. The general opinion is that the government has made itself extremely ridiculous by interfering with it. Its only purpose is to agitate for universal peace. It has been indorsed by the czar and can be bought everywhere in Russia.

Your correspondent was lucky enough to get hold of a copy. The pamphlet was written by Tolstoy under the impression caused by the assassination of King Humbert in Italy and deals with political murders of princes. The author vehemently denounces the military education given to all sons of kings and emperors, as well as warlike speeches. The murdered Alexander, Carnot, Humbert and other heads of great countries, he says, should not have been killed, but they should have been taught to despise the hypocrites and flatterers who surround them and who praise war and preparation for war as the only subjects worthy of their interest.

As usual, Tolstoy's language is exceedingly forcible, but to the unprejudiced mind it contains not one word offensive to the kaiser or any other prince.

POLITICAL PRISONERS HORRIBLY TORTURED

Cruel Russian Minister, Despite Czar's Orders, Revives Terrors of the Inquisition.

[SPECIAL CABLE TO THE GAZETTE.]

BERLIN, Aug. 13.—Though the czar has repeatedly put himself on record as strongly favoring humane treatment of all prisoners, a correspondent writes that hundreds of political prisoners are daily being tortured in the most cruel manner in the dungeons of the Peter Paul fortress at St. Petersburg. The Russian minister of the interior, von Plehewe, has ordered the adoption of torture as a means of securing confessions, and even personally has been present in several cases where all the horrors of the mediaeval inquisition were revived. The details of some of the tortures applied are absolutely unprintable. Among the victims are several students of excellent family as well as a very prominent publisher and newspaper editor from the city of Teploff, and Baron Tschchotaroff, whose magnificent estates in the Caucasus and southern Russia are said to be wanted by Minister Plehewe, but which the baron has refused to sell.

RAJAH'S SON RESCUED.

East Indian, Who Nearly Starved to Death in New York, Sails for Singapore.

NEW YORK, Aug. 13.—(Special.)—After wandering around starving, because no one could understand his language, Abdul Kadir, an East Indian, who arrived on the Indramayo as a deckhand, was picked up near the department of charities in Livingstone street.

His sufferings and the lack of food made him look like an old man, so he was sent to the Home for the Aged and Infirm. There he grew young again with good food and care. Still no one could understand what he said, so he was taken along the water front until some of his own countrymen were found, and then he told his story. He said his father was a great rajah, with many slaves but a bad temper. Abdul had fallen out with him and fled to Singapore, where he embarked on board the Indramayo. He sailed for Singapore on the Indradeo today.

POPE PIUS IS URGED TO APPOINT VANNUTELLI

Father Edward Fowler Is Named as a Domestic Prelate to the Pontiff.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS CABLE TO THE GAZETTE.]

ROME, Aug. 13.—The pope today received Cardinal Satolli, who inquired regarding the appointment of a new secretary of state in succession to Cardinal Rampolla and again suggested Vincenzo Vannutelli as the best fitted for the position. Cardinal Satolli then proposed the appointment of Father Edward Fowler, secretary to the Rev. J. J. Harty, as a domestic prelate to the pontiff, which post carries with it the title of monsignor. The pope granted the request and a brief making the appointment was issued immediately.

Cardinal Gibbons will come to Rome Friday to assist at the consecration on Saturday, of the Rev. J. J. Harty as archbishop of Manila. On Sunday the pope will receive the new archbishop and Father Fowler in private audience. The former will leave Rome Monday.

The pope this afternoon received the ministers of Peru, Uruguay and Argentina and the Austrian ambassador, who presented their credentials and greetings from their governments on the occasion of his election.

Mgr. Cagiano, the major-domo, accompanied by Cardinals Rampolla and Mocenni, opened the apartment of Pope Leo this morning, breaking the seals put on at the time of the pontiff's death. They found a considerable amount of money—it is stated several millions of francs—besides other valuables.

MISER HID HIS HOARD IN A STUFFED MONKEY

Is Found Dead in Paris Garret With Animal Clasped to His Breast.

[SPECIAL CABLE TO THE GAZETTE.]

PARIS, Aug. 13.—The authorities are still busy looking for relatives of a man named Kerkl, who was found dead in his room with a stuffed monkey clasped in his arms. The man appeared to be very poor and for years received outdoor relief from the authorities.

The monkey, on being examined, was found to have a slit in its skin, and out of sheer curiosity the policeman who was looking at the animal probed the hole with a pencil and discovered that the animal's body was stuffed with papers.

First of all a letter was extracted in which the dead man stated that through fear of burglars he had kept all his valuables where the letter was discovered. The body was torn open by the eager spectators and found to contain $1,000 in bank notes and securities to the value of 35,000.
